Severe Winter Storm And Gales Sweep British Isles

THREE LOSE LIVES; ROADS ARE BLOCKED

Ships In Irish Sea Battle Winds Fruitlessly and Send Out Call For Aid
TRAINS ARE DELAYED

Passengers on Bus Between Glasgow and Cupar Are Stranded In Blizzard

LONDON, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Ireland and northern England and Scotland were in the grip of a vicious winter storm and a heavy mile an hour wind today while many ships in the Irish sea battled high winds and waves and were forced to ask for assistance. Three persons were killed by the storm in northern England. Many heads of livestock were missing. Communication and transport services were disrupted by heavy snows forming drifts from four to six feet deep.

Passengers on the omnibus route between Glasgow and Cupar were stranded throughout the night in a blizzard.

The coast road near Antrim was blocked by three landslides. Hundreds of tons of earth fell before the force of the gale on the Isle of Man, flooding the railway between Douglas and Peel and necessitating conveyance of passengers by omnibus.

Northern England and Scotland experienced the wildest weather in years over the weekend. Snow, sleet and hail blocked many highways and delayed train service.

The Inverness express train, due at Euston station, London, at 6:55 a. m., arrived at 7:40 p. m.

The British steam trawler Lord Beaconsfield was in a serious position near Duncansby Head, Caithness, Scotland. The ship's engines failed as she was endeavoring to reach Aberdeen.

The American liner American Farmer arrived at Plymouth 12 hours late.

The Dutch liner Stuyvesant docked at the same port after fighting mountainous seas and an 80 mile wind throughout the night. The Stuyvesant reported at the height of the gale she received an SOS from the Yugoslavian steamer Olga Topic, of 2905 gross tons, drifting helplessly out of control off Cornwall. The Olga Topic later was taken in tow by the German tug Heros. Her position was critical.

5002 PRISONERS IN SAN QUENTIN PRISON

SAN QUENTIN STATE PRISON, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Figures compiled by the state board of prison directors disclosed today that San Quentin has 5002 prisoners, a record for the institution. A total of 511 of these are in convict road camps.

Never before since the prison was built, it was revealed, has the number of inmates exceeded 5000. Although the manufacturing and industrial units are crowded, it was pointed out, the penitentiary is still far below capacity in regard to housing and feeding.

The institution is the largest of its kind in the United States.

SUNNYVALE IS SELECTED FOR AIRSHIP BASE

House Passes Bill Authorizing $5,000,000 to Erect Buildings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(UP)—The house passed today a bill authorizing appropriation of $5,000,000 to establish a dirigible base for the west coast at Sunnyvale, Calif., near San Francisco.

The measure by Representative Free, Republican, California, now goes to the senate. The bill was passed by the house under unanimous consent. Before passage the house defeated, 30 to 7, an amendment by Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas, which would have permitted the army also to use the base.

The bill permits the government to accept 1000 acres of land for the dirigible base which will be a center of naval dirigible activities on the Pacific coast. The dirigible Los Angeles is to be sent there from Lakehurst, N. J., and the base will quarter the huge new dirigible now being built at Akron, O., at a cost of $5,000,000.

Representative Cooper, Republican, Ohio, told the house today this dirigible will be completed within four months and be ready to go to the coast base.

PLANE WRECKAGE SIGHTED BY STEAMER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(UP)—The navy department was advised today by the steamship Youngstown that it has sighted a bit of wreckage believed to be an airplane wing, about 275 miles west of Horta, Azores Islands. Navy officials believe the wreckage may be a part of the trans-Atlantic airplane Tradewind, which left Bermuda for the Azores January 10.

If the wreckage sighted was part of the Tradewind, the plane, allowing nothing for drift, fell 103 miles short of its goal, and slightly to the northwest.

The message received by the navy follows: "At 3:01 p. m. January 21, at latitude 41 degrees, 45 minutes north, longitude 31 degrees, 44 minutes west, Youngstown passed gray colored wreckage resembling section airplane wing."

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT FOR ARMY PHYSICIAN

TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Efforts to exonerate Major Charles A. Shepard from charges of poisoning his wife to marry a younger woman will be resumed here today with a motion for a new trial.

The 59-year-old army physician was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in a sensational two-weeks trial at Kansas City, Kan., last December.

C. L. Kasey and Harry Class, defense attorneys, will present their motion for another trial before Federal Judge Richard J. Hopkins.

Call Loans Held Necessary By New York Bank Head

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City Bank, defended call loans which play a large part in financing stock market operations, as a part of the banking structure when he testified today before the Glass committee which is inquiring into operations of the Federal Reserve system.

Senator Glass believes improper use of federal reserve credit facilities contributed to security inflation which culminated in the market collapse of 1929. Call loans were considered an instrument in the use of federal reserve credit.

RELIEF TOTAL IN SANTA ANA IS OVER $3500

Only $400 More Needed to Reach Quota of $4000 For This District

FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS will complete the $4000 quota given the Red Cross organizations of the southern half of Orange county as their share of the $10,000,000 sought by the Red Cross for relief work in stricken areas of the United States.

"We are hoping we can go far beyond our quota," said Terry E. Stephenson, Red Cross chapter chairman, today. "Every bit of information that we get only emphasizes the dire need that exists."

A contribution of $255 taken by the pupils of the Olive grammar school was left with H. L. Hanson, Red Cross treasurer, at the First National bank. It was reported at the same time that the Rural School Principals' association had left a contribution of $10 at the Garden Grove Red Cross.

"Saturday night over the radio," said O. O. Heykenfeldt, at the Home Mutual Building and Loan office this morning, "I listened to the old farmer with 12 children tell his story, and that man's story got me. I realized then that what I had understood the need there was for aid, I would no longer let my duty drift."

DO-X DELAYED ON CAPE VERDE FLIGHT

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands, Feb. 2.—(UP)—The Dornier flying boat DO-X awaited a final tuning of her 12 motors in harbor here today before beginning a 900-mile flight south to St. Vincent, in the Cape Verde Islands.

Trouble in one of the giant ship's motors prevented departure early today. One engine had to be dismantled before mechanics could pronounce the ship in perfect running order.

Capt. Friedrich Christiansen indicated the trouble might have been repaired enroute to St. Vincent, but he wanted the gines in perfect condition before continuing the leisurely journey to Rio de Janeiro and later to New York.

NEW TRIAL IS REQUESTED BY DAISY DE VOE

Superior Judge Doran to Announce Decision at Some Later Date

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2.—(UP)—A motion by Daisy De Voe for a new trial on her conviction of grand theft of funds from Clara Bow, film star, was taken under submission by Superior Judge William C. Doran at noon today.

William Beirne, attorney for Miss De Voe, argued for two hours in behalf of the former secretary to the red-haired film actress.

Beirne contended that certain evidence introduced at the trial had been prejudicial to Miss De Voe. The attorney also attempted to show that the verdict of guilty on one of 35 counts resulted from "lot and chance."

Judge Doran refused Beirne permission to question jurors regarding details of their deliberations, but permitted him to read into the record a question concerning the compromise verdict finally agreed upon by the jury.

Beirne asked if the eight jurors who held out for acquittal for two days had not finally switched around on the agreement that Miss De Voe should be found guilty on only one count and that the count should be selected at random.

Deputy District Attorney Dave Clark objected to the question and Beirne then secured permission to read the question into the record in case an appeal is carried to a higher court.

FOUR YOUNG GIRLS SAVED FROM DEATH

REDONDO BEACH, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Four young girls, recently arrived from Texas, were saved from drowning during their first swim in the ocean yesterday and they, in turn, were forced to save their exhausted rescuers.

The girls, Frances Lightner, 15, Ruby Kelley, 15, her sister, Mae, 14, and Esther Shepard, 15, all of Los Angeles, were caught in a tide rip and were being carried to sea.

Raymond C. Burns, Long Beach, brought the four through the surf and collapsed in the breakers. The girls formed a human chain and kept him from being carried under the waves until life guards responded. He was revived at police hospital.

Governor Rolph Asked To Settle Milk War In S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Governor James Rolph Jr. was appealed to today to settle San Francisco's "milk war."

With prices at eight cents a quart and six cents a pint, and the rumored possibility that they would take another one cent tumble during the day, L. H. Hirsch, president of the Co-operative Milk producers of San Francisco, went to Sacramento to see the governor.

Receipts In 1930 Record Says Report

Annual Meeting of Orange County Fruit Exchange Held Today

A PROBABLE INCREASE in the volume of the production of the Valencia orange during the next few years was the prediction made by C. C. Hillis, manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange, who made his first report to stockholders at an annual meeting of the organization held today in the exchange building.

When it was reported that returns of $14,463,012.39 had been made during the past year. This sum was $3,413,044.80 in excess of the largest year, that of 1929, while shipments were only 78.7 per cent of the shipments of that year, the manager stated.

In his report Hillis said: "The 1930 crop of valencias averaged $2.07 f. o. b. California and returned to the producers the largest amount of money for any crop ever produced in the territory. There were shipped after Nov. 1, 1929, 469 cars of last year's crop of valencias, which brought an average of $4.01 f. o. b. Ninety-five per cent of the 98 cars of valencias were moved during January and February and the entire volume of 45,542 boxes averaged $4.12 f. o. b. There were 69,844 boxes of grapefruit and miscellaneous varieties handled, which brought an f. o. b. average of $5.01 and all of the 1930 crop of valencias, 4172 carloads, were shipped before October 31, which is the end of this fiscal year. The total number of cars shipped for the 1930 crop were 5102 and with the November, 1929, shipments were 5571.

"The shipments through this organization for the period under review amounted to 2,553,415 boxes of all varieties of citrus fruits. Included in the figures of this season are 216,632 boxes of valencias of the 1929 crop, which were shipped after Nov. 1, 1929, and which returned $869,863.17, so that to arrive at the returns for the 1930 crop, it is necessary to deduct these amounts from the totals for the season, first given above.

"A tabulation of the shipments, divided into cars of 462 boxes of oranges and grapefruit and 348 boxes of lemons, represents the actual number of boxes of those varieties as they are loaded in cars for shipment. It must be borne in mind in comparing these figures with those of other years, or with competitive statistics, that the 1929 crop will use 400 many of the shippers a car and in the case of oranges and grapefruit, the surplus is about 15 per cent higher in carloads, than would otherwise be the case.

"We handled 817 car loads of lemons at an average per box of $5.19 f. o. b., or a return to California of $1807.44 per car of 348 boxes each.

"Estimates for the 1930-31 crop have been compiled, and while they generally indicate heavier

Investigation Of Charges On Bishop Slated Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Bishop William M. Ainsworth, of Birmingham, Ala., head of the Methodist College of Bishops, was expected here late today to complete arrangements for the church's investigation of secret charges against Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

The investigation will begin at the Mount Vernon Place church here tomorrow with 12 of Bishop Cannon's fellow clergymen as jurors. Church leaders have intimated that the charges concern Cannon's personal, rather than his political, activities.

The charges are understood to have developed since the bishop's exonerated last spring by the general conference at Dallas, Tex., where other accusations were inquired into.

PRINCE RENOUNCES RIGHT OF SUCCESSION TO THRONE SO HE CAN WED COMMONER

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Prince Gustave Lennart, grandson of the king, today voluntarily surrendered his title and right of succession for love of the daughter of a commoner.

An official communique, issued shortly after the prince had announced his engagement to Miss Karin Nixqvand, said King Gustav refused to approve the marriage.

Prince Lennart expressed his willingness to assume all the consequences of his forthcoming marriage to the daughter of a rich Swedish industrialist. He will lose any chance of ever succeeding to the throne. He will give up his princely title and his inheritance from the estates of the late queen.

Instead of Prince Lennart, he will become plain Lennart Wilhelmsson.

The outward appearance of kindly disapproval, however, was understood to be more due to necessary formality than to actual opposition of King Gustav to the marriage. It was said that the king, after a long conference yesterday with the father of the prince, was willing to permit the young couple to go abroad and be married, later receiving the "silent approval" of the crown. The communique indicated that Lennart probably later will be granted the title of count.

Upwards of a half billion dollars is being spent on public and private improvement throughout the nation and state legislatures and congress are considering appropriations for additional millions, the survey revealed.

The survey by states: Alabama—T. Toit, advisor to the Hoover emergency commission, said there was a definite upturn in industry in January with steel mills, cement, limestone and textile industries leading the way.

Arizona—Estimated 4000 unemployed January 31 as against 3000 in December. Mines have curtailed production and cotton picking dropping off.

California—California—49 per cent increase of unemployed registrations in San Francisco but state is spending $6,500,000 on roads and public construction as a stimulant.

Colorado—Quince Record, head of the United States Department of Labor bureau, estimated unemployment increased in January but no figures available.

Florida—John H. Mackey, state labor inspector, reported unemployment "somewhat lessened in January" owing to organized relief efforts.

Illinois—Barney Cohen, director of the State Department of Labor pointed to an increase in unemployment, and said the condition was "better than at any time in the past six months." $5,000,000 in road bills are due in February, and $15,000,000 appropriation bills are pending in the legislature.

Indiana—Indiana State Federation of Labor reported that unemployment had shown no increase or improvement during the month of January, while the state chamber of commerce estimated conditions to be improved five to six per cent with renewed production in several cities.

Bourbon Leader Says 1000 Persons Dying Daily In U. S. of Starvation

CHARGES POLITICS

Claims President and Others Back $20,000,000 Appropriation In 1919

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(UP)—A thousand persons a day are dying of starvation in this country, Senator Caraway, Democrat, Kansas, asserted in an address in the Senate today.

Caraway made a bitter attack on Republican leaders who are standing firmly against the Democratic program for relief of hunger and misery among the unemployed and drought stricken.

"Every day we wait," Caraway said, "1000 people die of starvation."

"Somebody is dooming the great American people to a premature death. I'd like to know who are the ones playing politics at this time."

"The millions of people who contribute to the Red Cross and the others who are the beneficiaries of its kindness have a right to know who is the instigator of this resolution to refuse to accept the $25,000,000."

"Whose voice is it? Chairman Payne could tell us."

Caraway questioned the sincerity of President Hoover, House Majority Leader Tilton, and Chairman Snell of the House Rules committee.

He said Mr. Hoover had asked for the appropriation in 1919, and Chairman John Barton Payne a series of questions. He cited votes of Tilton, Speaker Longworth, Chairman Fess of the Republican National committee and Snell to give the Red Cross $20,000,000 in 1919 to feed "drought sufferers" in Europe.

"There is one difference," Caraway said, "that $20,000,000 in 1919 was for foreigners and this $25,000,000 is to feed American citizens."

He said Mr. Hoover had asked for the appropriation in 1919, and Chairman John Barton Payne a series of questions. He cited votes of Tilton, Speaker Longworth, Chairman Fess of the Republican National committee and Snell to give the Red Cross $20,000,000 in 1919 to feed "drought sufferers" in Europe.

Caraway read from the hearings of 12 years ago to show that the $20,000,000 was to relieve drought conditions. He quoted Mr. Hoover as having told a house committee at that time that 15,000,000 people were hungry in the Volga valley and that "we are making a distinction between an act of man and an act of God."

Remarking that Tilton's brother had received appointment as a Federal judge, Caraway continued that yet he "stands on his principles and starves women and children in 21 states."

"A lot he cares," Caraway said. "He has feathered his own nest already."

SHIP BELIEVED BURNED DURING MORNING HOURS

EUREKA, Calif., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Latest reports to reach here from the shore near Trinidad Head established the possibility that the burning ship sighted off the coast early today had sunk.

Residents of the town of Abalone Beach, five miles north of the head, telephoned to say that they had sighted the blaze, watched it enlarge, then disappear from sight.

There was the possibility the blaze had been brought under control and the ship turned back on her course, but the surmise seemed remote. In such a case, it was pointed out, traces of the vessel would not have disappeared so soon.

Favoring the theory that the fire had been extinguished and the ship turned back on her course, were the facts that a moderate dense early fog impeded visibility from shore and that no word at all has come from the ship's radio.

Were the fire of the proportions it seemed to watchers on shore, it seemed unlikely that no messages of distress would have been broadcast. There was the possibility, however, that the ship was smaller than it seemed from shore and not equipped with radio.

At San Francisco headquarters of the McCormick steamship line, it was established that the steam schooner Jane Nettleton and Wallingford are in the region and either could have been the distressed boat.

The Nettleton, out of Seattle with lumber, was due in San Francisco Wednesday morning, and would be ahead of schedule if off Trinidad Head today. The Wallingford, also carrying lumber from

10 Persons Dead From Poison Food; Two Others Ill

GRAFTON, N. D., Feb. 2.—(UP)—With 10 persons already dead from poison food served at a party, physicians worked over two other guests today to prevent the extinction of all those who attended the gay affair at Edward Hein's farmhouse.

Genevieve Hein, 16, and Joseph Leach, 26, were in a critical condition at the local hospital and their recovery was only promising. Dr. G. W. Galspel said.

Salad made from canned peas was blamed for the deaths of the 10 farm persons who came to the farm house last Thursday for the celebration. The peas had been canned by Mrs. Edward Hein, one of those who died, and doctors said they had caused a poison which paralyzed the throat muscles of the victims.

Burglaries In Santa Ana Homes Net $500 To Thieves

LOCAL POLICE ON TRAIL OF ROBBERS TODAY

Santa Ana police today announced they were on the trail of a burglar who, over the week end, entered two Santa Ana homes, stealing valuables worth approximately $500. At the same time two other burglaries here over the week end were reported.

The home of W. D. Ranney, at 2321 North Park boulevard, in North Broadway Park, was entered some time yesterday afternoon while members of the Ranney family were away, and the entire upstairs was looted.

The thief, falling in attempt to enter the house through a rear window, procured a ladder and entered the house from a window on the second floor. Drawers were pulled out and closets searched, while approximately $25 worth of jewelry and other valuables were taken.

A telechron clock, worth $15, a diamond brooch, worth $1, five strings of pearl beads worth $4, crystal beads, rings and other jewelry were reported taken.

The same thief is being blamed for the robbery of the home of Mrs. Helen Anderson, at 527 West Nineteenth street, in the same neighborhood as the Ranney home. This house was entered Saturday night and silverware, together with a typewriter, four bracelets, several rings and a breastpin were reported taken.

The thief entered the Anderson home with the aid of a pass key on a rear door and worked after pulling all the shades down on the lower floor and then turning on the electric lights.

Burglars broke into the Continental Stores grocery at Seventeenth and North Main streets some time last night, but left without taking anything of value. It was reported to police today.

A bottle of olive oil was spilled on the floor and the tracks of two men were seen inside the store, but so far as is known no groceries or money was taken.

Five boxes of candy, four cartons of cigarettes and a box of chewing gum were taken from the store of H. Hamby, at 1901 West Fifth street, by a burglar who broke into the place some time Saturday night. It was reported.

TO PROVIDE PROGRAM

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will provide a nation-wide broadcast over the network of the National Broadcasting system, beginning at 5:30 p. m. Pacific Standard time.

Commander-in-Chief Paul C. Wolman will act as master of ceremonies. The United States Marine band will provide music. General Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' welfare; Admiral Robert E. Coontz, junior vice commander-in-chief, and Senator David A. Reed, chairman of the military affairs committee of the United States senate, will speak, pointing out the past achievements of ex-service men, and the things they are seeking to accomplish. Each will make an appeal along the lines of veterans' welfare.

Calvin Coolidge Says

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE

Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Feb.

2.—The episode involving General Butler illustrates one of the peculiarities of our military organization. It is very difficult to regulate the speech of our officers. The public usually assumes that the right of free speech is universal and without control. So such breaches of discipline are usually ignored. But such a freedom does not exist in the case of officers since they are voluntarily in a service where the right to talk is necessarily limited.

The case with which gossip concerning persons in important public positions finds credence is also remarkable. The most trivial incident is passed around and magnified until it becomes a serious accusation. The victims are usually without remedy. When anything of that kind occurs with reference to the officers of a foreign government it is especially reprehensible because it would be none of our concern even if it were true and because its repetition is very injurious to the friendly relations of the innocent people of the two countries. There are good things enough in the world and good traits enough in all persons to supply about all the topics needed for discussion. International good will should not be imperiled by inconsiderate statements from any source.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN NATION IS DECREASED SLIGHTLY DURING JANUARY, SURVEY INDICATES

Iowa—H. V. Hoyer, state labor commissioner, estimated the number of unemployed to be 45,000—the same as last year, but said that 20,000 would find work on paving projects.

Louisiana

Louisiana—The employment situation seemed improved here in spite of 18,000 unemployed in New Orleans. State, city, public and private enterprises embracing appropriations of $300,000,000 expected to furnish work throughout the state.

Maine—No figures available, but indications were that employment increased during the month in the shoe industry and emergency winter municipal projects.

Massachusetts—2000 men hired by state here for forestry improvements although factory operations still below normal. Upward trend apparent in leather trades.

Michigan—L. J. Herrick, statistician of the state department of labor and industry, predicted an increase in employment and average weekly payrolls, which will be due to the expected increase in automobile production. Detroit estimated one and one-half jobs less than before with mild winter contributing because of reductions in coal distribution, ice cutting and snow shoveling.

Minnesota—Unemployment great-er than ever before with mild winter contributing because of reductions in coal distribution, ice cutting and snow shoveling.

Missouri—Mrs. Amanda Hargis, state labor commissioner, says employment conditions slightly improved, especially in rural districts. Highway department has 8000 men at work on roads. Kansas City has $35,000,000 building program, but also has 11,000 unemployed, according to chamber of commerce.

Montana—No real unemployment problem here, but men in mines and smelters have been working on part time basis. Production has been less than one-half of last year's. Extensive highway program, employing 1800 additional men, aiding situation.

Nebraska—Commissioner Glenn B. Eastburn of Omaha Chamber of Commerce claims after state-wide tour absolutely no unemployment aside from season work-suffering least of any in country. About 6000 or 8000 workers in Omaha not working, which is normal, he said.

Nevada—Despite 50 per cent drop from normal output of silver and copper mines, unemployment increased only one per cent in January.

New Hampshire—Improvement noted, especially in shoe and textile industries. A $300,000 highway project is giving work to many. Railroad shops are operating part time.

New Mexico—Labor union leaders estimate 4000 unemployed in state, a slight increase over December. State is rushing public works program of $6,000,000 to relieve unemployment and the state legislature is considering proposal to create labor commissioner.

NEW YORK—Metropolitan Life Insurance company estimates 1,649,446 persons out of work in New York City. Buffalo Chamber of Commerce estimates 16 per cent fewer persons employed than last December and 15 per cent fewer than the 1929 average. New York City's unemployed estimated at almost 25 per cent of the total population. Persons seeking police aid increased from 47,826 to 67,553 between December 1, 1930 and June 27, 1931.

North Carolina—Commissioner of Labor Frank D. Grist says there was slight increase in employment in January over December. State-federal employment offices report a slight decrease in the number of requests for jobs and a slight increase in placements.

OHIO—Dr. Spurgeon Bell of State University Research department says employment conditions are one per cent better than in December, 1930, but employed in non-manufacturing industries increased 14 per cent.

Oklahoma—Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce says 26,000 unemployed in state; state labor commissioner says 70,000 and number increasing. About $75,000,000 construction program laid out for year will provide work for many.

Rhode Island—Employment in major industries below normal, but showing slight increase. Activity in whether these people are not deserving?"

Tilson—"I want him to tell us the truth. He was not telling the truth both times. One of these statements was not the truth and he knew it."

Snell—"Could he be right both times?"

Payne—"I want John Barton Payne to tell us the origin of the resolution to decline a federal contribution. Who wrote it? Who asked its promulgation?"

Caraway said at the time of the 1919 appropriation Mr. Hoover was seeking the presidency.

"Any Party's Man" he continued, "was willing to be any party's man when he was a candidate for president."

Emphasizing Mr. Hoover's statement of November that all deserving citizens should not suffer, Caraway demanded to know whether the drought stricken farmers were not deserving. He read a Red Cross advertisement dated three days ago which said that "thousands" of persons were starving and cold.

"If that advertisement is correct," Caraway said, "the Red Cross is not meeting the need and if they advertise conditions which do not exist, it would be getting money under false pretenses."

He complained the "house is the president's obedient tool." Drought sufferers, he said, had "just as much right to live as the grandchildren of the president who, the papers said, had eight Christmas trees."

He complained that drought sufferers in Arkansas were being fed on from 44 to 50 cents a week.

LOSES LIFE TRYING TO FLAG P. E. CAR

Albert Tiernan, 46, of Rosemead, was instantly killed early last night when he was struck by a Santa Ana-Los Angeles north-bound Pacific Electric train at Stanton. His body was hurled 100 feet and death was instantaneous.

The man was killed, it was reported here, when he stepped out on the tracks to flag the train with a torch he had improvised by lighting a piece of paper. In this manner he hoped to attract the attention of the motorman.

Tiernan had spent the day with his brother, Charles F. Tiernan, a resident of Stanton, and after dinner last night left his brother's home for the purpose of returning to Los Angeles. He expected to flag the train between stops.

The body was taken to the Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral parlors, where Coroner Charles D. Brown will hold an inquest late this afternoon.

HOMER C. HALL ENDS HIS LIFE HERE SATURDAY

While his wife was downtown shopping, Homer Charles Hall, 72, resident of Santa Ana for the past eight years, committed suicide Saturday afternoon, by hanging himself in the garage at his home at 2213 North Main street, according to the coroner's office.

The body was found by Mrs. Hall when she returned from the business district at 3:30 p. m. She called S. E. Cook, owner of a grocery store, next door and he notified Coroner Charles D. Brown. No inquest will be held.

Hall used a short rope, which had been stored in the garage. An examination of the body showed that the man had been dead for approximately two hours.

The body was taken to the Harrell and Brown funeral parlors from where the funeral will be held at a time to be announced later. Hall had been here since 1923. He formerly operated a cigar stand in the Grand Central market.

M. Hall, the deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rosa M. Hall, the deceased is survived by three daughters all of whom live in the east.

Sailor Wounded In Cleaning Gun

Ted Servello, 31, a sailor on the U. S. S. Oklahoma, stationed at San Pedro, today was in the Orange county hospital suffering from a pistol wound in his left leg, received in an accidental manner while he was at his home at Garden Grove, late yesterday.

According to the sheriff's office, which made an investigation, Servello was cleaning a gun when it accidentally discharged, the charge striking him in the leg. Physicians today dug out the bullet. Servello's condition is not serious.

Out After Its Greatest Victory!

YOU'VE READ many times about Richfield's racing records and victories...on land...in the air...on water. Richfield has won more world's records and speedway victories than all other gasolines combined.

In 1930 alone, Richfield added more than 170 major victories and world's records to its already amazing list of triumphs.

Now Richfield is fighting for the greatest victory in its history. Fighting to maintain its high position in the petroleum industry. Fighting to reestablish its financial stability. A friendly receivership has been placed in control to hasten this victory.

Richfield is fighting hard! And its confidence in the outcome is based on the sheer merit of its products and the ability and loyalty of its splendid marketing organization with thousands of independent dealers.

Richfield is such an integral part of the west...has built to such prominence in the petroleum industry...is so important to the livelihood and welfare of thousands...that it confidently solicits a continuation of your patronage.

You can always count on the quality of Richfield products. May we count on you?

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Are you faulted by your friends on the ground that your hopes are audacious?

Refuse to abandon them and to become acquiescent in the crippled theories of such of your fellows as have been blinded by the dust and turmoil and hardship of the world.

It is hard to hold on when clouds obscure the heavens and fear pierce you very bones, but you can do it and you will.

It is stupid to imagine that God would bring you this far only to abandon you to brooding and disillusionment. Keep on daring to hope and to expect and to fit yourself to the fulfillment of His promise, "Ye shall be with Me."

CONFERENCE IS HELD TODAY TO PLAN ACTION

A conference today between city and county officials on the subject of the claim the city of Santa Ana has made against Orange county for approximately $35,000 which it is estimated is due and owing to the city for penalties collected by the county on delinquent tax payments since 1916, resulted in a decision to ask other cities to join with Santa Ana in a friendly suit against county officials to compel the payment of the money.

The conference concerned with the matter of procedure, the board, according to Supervisor Charles Chapman, having expressed the feeling that the sum should be paid if there were any method of properly determining the exact amount due.

Other cities in the county for which the county collects taxes and to which penalties collected by the county are said to be due and owing will be summoned to attend a conference in the near future, it was announced today by City Auditor Lloyd Banks, who discovered that these penalties never had been returned to Santa Ana with tax payments. The meeting will be called by Banks and the other cities will be invited to join in making an audit of county records to determine how much is due and owing and then join with Santa Ana in the friendly action against the county. Communities to which these notices will be sent are Fullerton, Seal Beach, Tustin, San Clemente, Placentia and Laguna Beach.

Those present at the conference today, which was held in the supervisors' committee room at the court house, were the heads of the two governments, Mayor Frank Purinton and Chairman John C. Mitchell, of the board of supervisors; attorneys for both bodies, City Attorney Charles Swanner and Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton; and financial advisers, City Auditor Lloyd Banks, County Auditor W. T. Lambert and Deputy Auditor Leslie Beckel.

GOVERNOR GIVES HUNTERS ADVICE

AUSTIN, Tex.—Governor Dan Moody, who belies being head of the state government, is one of Texas' best shots, gives this advice for successful duck hunting: "Choose a cloudy day with little wind. Remember that the duck is a fast flyer. The teal goes at the rate of 120 miles an hour. When you shoot allow for that fast flying."

Governor Moody's advice to choose a hunting day with what aviators would term a "low ceiling" and little wind is approved by other successful duck hunters. In clear weather ducks fly high, which makes it difficult to shoot. When there is little wind the surface of the water on which they light to feed is smooth. Flying over grasses, wild rice or other morsels, as they swoop down to land on this feeding spot, the hunter has his chance.

MODERATOR

Dr. Hugh Thompson Kerr, below, moderator of the Presbyterian church of the United States, spoke to representatives of the Orange county churches of that denomination at a luncheon in his honor last Saturday. He is pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian church, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and is on a tour through the south and west in connection with his work as national executive of the church.

PROGRAM FOR CHURCH TOLD BY MODERATOR

A message concerning the work and program of the Church was brought to members of the Presbyterian churches of Orange county by Hugh Thompson Kerr, moderator of the Presbyterian church of the United States, who was guest of honor at a luncheon attended by leaders of the county churches at Ketter's cafe Saturday.

Dr. Kerr, who is pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, declared that the Church is not losing power or influence and pointed out that in the present depression the income of his denomination for the first nine months of the fiscal year for financing the work of the board of missions, education and pensions, is only six per cent behind last year, whereas in business the percentage is reputed to be about four times as large.

The speaker of the day was characterized in his introduction to the audience by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, chairman of the meeting, as the young people's friend, a human gentleman, who was concerned for and interested in young ministers and young people and their problems.

"On the whole we are steadily moving forward with increasing power and strength bearing more strongly on the morals of the United States," Dr. Kerr declared. "If people think that the church is slipping or losing its power or influence, let them think of the fact that last year our denominational income was $75,000,000. If this were capitalized it would mean an institution whose capital was one and a half billion dollars. Search has revealed that there is only one business concern with this capitalization, and that is the American Telephone and Telegraph company."

"The Presbyterian church always has stood for inherited values. It has a great conviction and a creed to express its conviction in clarity. It believes that God is sovereign and man is free, that there is Divine will in the colleges today religion is not being stressed so much as ethics. I have been teaching college students for 18 years and I find they are more perplexed today in the realm of ethics and morals than religion. They are not quite sure of the rightness or wrongness of things. Modern morality seems to be teaching that whatever is natural is right—let go—express your feelings. My answer to this question as it is brought to me by students, is that whatever is natural is to determine how he shall interpret it, whether for good or evil. Righteousness lies behind all life as a foundation."

"The Presbyterian religion is interested in all questions of right or wrong whether in politics, morals or business and requires high intellectual standards of ministry. No profession in the world makes more demands than that of the ministry. The church demands that its ministers be intelligent, alert and abreast with the times."

"There must be a new emphasis in the church on the program known as Christian education. Presbyterians have long believed in 'the nurture and administration of the Lord.' Religious education is a primary function of the pastor who should keep his hands closely on this vital part of the program. There should be more emphasis on this subject in the homes."

"The Presbyterian church has always been missionary minded and is the largest missionary organization in the world. It has more missionaries in more lands discharging more money than any other denomination. The general assembly of the church in Pittsburgh next May will mark the 100th anniversary of its work as an organization for foreign missions."

WILL EXPLAIN NEW DEMANDS UPON SCHOOLS

Changing conditions of life—changing philosophies—new demands—advanced discoveries—these and other reasons back of the modern problems in education will be discussed by Dr. P. R. Davis, assistant superintendent of schools, in his address Tuesday before the Y. M. C. A. Forum, which meets at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Davis maintains that the problems being met today by educators are the result of rapid changes in our social organization and in our manner of living. Requirements as to educational leaders are working with all their energy to adapt our schools to meet these new conditions.

In view of the general interest in public school work and the local development in our school system, this discussion should attract a large hearing. There will be plenty of time for questions and discussion of the points involved, and it may be that some points not generally understood by patrons of the schools can be cleared up.

The public is invited to attend the meeting and to participate in the discussion of the topic, "The Problem of Modern Education."

Service Available On Phone Line

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The United States, Cuba and Mexico have just been linked with Australia in a 14,000 mile telephone connection, the longest commercial line in the world.

Regular service is available over this line between New York and Sidney and from those centers to most points in North America and to Queensland, New South Wales, Victoria and the city of Adelaide. The line is formed by two radio links, one from Australia to England and the other from England to the United States.

It brings approximately 500,000 more telephones into connection with American homes and offices, according to the Department of Commerce.

Experimental tests are also being conducted to link New Zealand in the circuit. Initial tests have proved "very satisfactory," according to the department and conversations can now be exchanged without difficulty between two radio stations of the Australia and New Zealand.

Even before the opening of this new line to Australia, the United States was in contact with 85 per cent of the world's telephones. Its connections now include 43 countries with steps being taken rapidly to reach several more in Europe, South America and Asia.

Cuba and Mexico are able to make connections with most of these other nations through the American system.

DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

2 1/2% is Enough!

There is a saying that it takes all kinds of people to make a world. In the grocery business there are at least two kinds—the conservative, and the sensational or alarmist type.

We like to think we belong to the conservatives. Anyway, we try to mind our own business, work hard, and strive to render a real service. We have not been abusive of competition and we have kept our promises. We have always been quite content with less than

2 1/2% net profit on our gross sales in Southern California, which represents but a reasonable return on the capital invested. No reliable food concern will try to make more than that in these times and be fair. We promise you that none will be permitted to make more while in competition with Safeway.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, Feb. 2. — Between 50 and 60 people attended the Moose and Mooseheart barbecue held at the ranch home of Mrs. Ellen Gothard. Bill Sparks was chief. Horseshoes and cards entertained in the afternoon.

Glenn Groom, brother of Mrs. T. J. Holt, has convalesced rapidly from the severe injuries sustained when an automobile ran over him and his wheel chair when it plunged into the sidewalk at a Los Angeles street intersection, where he was waiting to cross. Groom, who had been an invalid for some time before this accident, is now out of the hospital.

Word of the arrival of their daughter, Victoria McIntosh, at Corcoran, Wash., has been received by Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh. The 1 1/2 acres of land belonging to C. C. Johnson, of Cannery road, has been purchased by Fresh Brush and the story and a half house located on the property has been moved off.

The ground is located west of Cannery road on Hill street and it is the intention of the new owner, it is understood, to add it to the 70-acre duck pond already located on the Brush property adjoining. A gun club has for several years been located in this section.

NEW ARMY AIRPORT
ALAMEDA, Calif.—Another airport in the increasing network of U. S. Army ports is expected to be erected near here in the future. A deed for 1100 acres has been officially presented to President Hoover for Army use, by Mayor Victor L. Schnepfer. It is expected that the port will be one of the most modern in use.

NEW OFFICERS INSTRUCTED BY REBEKAH HEAD

ORANGE, Feb. 2.—Mrs. Fanny Luella Barker, district deputy president, conducted a school of instruction for the newly installed officers of the Orange Ruby Rebekah lodge in the I.O.O.F. hall Friday evening.

A reception for the new officers followed in the banquet room with

Mrs. Meta Keuchel as hostess, assisted by Mrs. Mary Edwards, Mrs. Jane Chandler and Miss Nora Edwards. One large table was arranged for the official guests with the decorations giving a hint of the approach of Valentine day. Red predominated in the table decorations with a profusion of red hearts making a vivid contrast with the snowy linens.

The centerpiece was formed with a mirror on which was placed a crystal bowl, filled with poinsettias which were reflected in the mirror's depths, while ferns outlined the outer edge of the table with cupid's partially hidden in the feathery green.

Candles were in the same tones of scarlet and were tied with red tulle bows. Nut baskets carried out the chosen motif as did the refreshment course of molds of red Jello, topped with whipped cream, home made cakes and coffee.

The social hour was spent in playing five hundred, with high score made by Mrs. Elizabeth Roddeck and low score by Mrs. Rosa Smith.

Officers in attendance of the evening's function were Mrs. Fanny L. Barker, district deputy president; Miss Helen Kroener, past noble grand; Mrs. Meta Keuchel, noble grand; Miss Nora Edwards, vice grand; Mrs. Ruby Lytle, recording secretary; Mrs. Claudia Windolph, financial secretary; Mrs. Alice Shell, treasurer; Mrs. Camilla Achley, warden; Mrs. Clara Allen, conductor; Mrs. Jewel Gullede, chaplain; Mrs. Katherine Pister, musician; Mrs. F. L. Barker, right supporter noble grand; Mrs. Jane Chandler, left supporter noble grand; Mrs. Mary Edwards, right supporter vice grand; Mrs. Edith Cavett, left supporter vice grand; Mrs. Meta Rasedale, inside guard; Mrs. Florence Evans, outside guard; Mrs. Bessie Lighthall, right altar supporter; Mrs. Rosa Smith, left altar supporter; Mrs. Antonette Danker, flag bearer; Mrs. Edith Knesel, condolence committee; Mrs. Star Batchelor and Mrs. Ella Hight, trustees; Miss Helen Kroener, Mrs. Alma Coffey and Mrs. Sarah Lawson, examining committee; Mrs. Ina Cope, flower committee; Mrs. Edith Knesel, Mrs. Katie Hithusan and Mrs. Madge Christenson, condolence committee; Mrs. Elizabeth Roddeck, Mrs. Esther Miller and Mrs. Alma Coffey, and Mrs. Ella Hight, banner bearers.

PASTOR WARNS OF DANGER IN JOB SCARCITY

The unemployment situation was discussed yesterday in the sermon of the Rev. W. J. Hatter, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Messiah. He characterized the situation as critical and dangerous and a challenge to the church for some effective social service.

"There is more wealth in the banks of the nation than ever before, yet people are starving for lack of work. Unless this is remedied there is likely to be revolution as there has been in other countries," he said.

The sermon was based on the parable of the master of the vineyard, found in John 20:6-8. "The parable given by Jesus in this chapter," he said, "is that of the master of the vineyard who hired laborers at different hours during the day, and when night came paid them all the same, although some had worked only an hour and others all day. At a casual reading this seems very unfair treatment and it appears inconsistent with Christ's teaching. However, we must consider it with the occasion on which it was uttered.

"Peter had been thinking how he and the other disciples had left everything—homes, families, business, all to follow Christ, and he was asking 'What will be our reward, what do we get for our sacrifice?' The parable was Christ's answer. To everyone who gives himself in service, God gives the same reward. It matters not whether we come to Christ as little children, in early man and womanhood, or not until the evening of life, if we truly believe in Christ and render faithful service, God will give us eternal life with Him in heaven.

"The world is not like this. Everywhere we see men and women past 40 who cannot obtain work. They are told they are too old. All about us today men are standing 'all day idle' because none will hire them. The situation is critical and dangerous for those who do have money. There is more wealth in the banks of the nation than ever before, yet people are starving for lack of work. Unless this is remedied there is likely to be revolution as there has been in other countries. The remedy is a real, practical religion, united effort and the church must help as a whole.

"Individual effort, fine as it is, is not enough. If all the people who have more than they need, and there are many such, would unite and give work to those who are idle, the critical situation of today soon would cease to exist. Men are not idle today from choice, they are not asking for charity, they want to be hired. Sympathy and prayer are not enough from the church at this time, it must show a practical Christianity, give food and work to those who need it, then the church's prayers will be of help.

"There are two types of religion, the individual, where we seek to save our own souls only, and the social service, where we seek to save and to serve all. This last is the kind needed now even more than ever before. If we will practice this Christianity today, men will no longer need to be idle from working at the material things of life, and also they will be given a chance to enter Christ's service and, at life's close, receive His promised reward."

IRVINE

IRVINE, Feb. 2.—Mrs. Willis Montgomery, teacher of the fifth and sixth grades, has been absent from her room several days, with Mrs. Spencer, of Santa Ana, taking her place.

A new safety committee has been elected at the school, as follows: Betty Boosey, president; Edward Bristow, Arthens Adams, Madeline DeBrouwer and Lyle Baker, of Mrs. Gardner's room; Henry Whittington and Myrtle Adams, of Mrs. Montgomery's room; Gladys Williams and Connie Wangler, of Mrs. Bardwell's room, and Betty Padilla, Mrs. Parham's room. The senior and junior boys' basketball team played a game at Villa Park last week, the senior team winning by a score of 6 to 0 and the juniors losing by a score of 18 to 3. The next game to be played will be at the Orangethorpe school Thursday.

A mother's meeting will be held at the school house February 4, at 2:30 o'clock, with the seventh grade boys and girls to put on the entertainment for the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Richards are the parents of a baby boy, born at the Santa Ana Valley hospital January 30.

Mildred Staples is spending several days of her vacation visiting in the home of Frances Larabee, of Newport Beach. Since the beginning of the new school semester, the various grades are taking up new work. In Mrs. Gardner's room, the eighth grade is starting the study of the Constitution and civil government. Mrs. Bigelow's first and second grade pupils are building a small bungalow on the sand patio near the room. The children are doing a complete set of furniture for it. While the third and fourth grade pupils were studying Eskimos, their teacher, Mrs. Bardwell, had the boys make dog-sleds and harness as part of their work.

Mr. Hammer and his children, and Mrs. Ellen Wilford, of Whittier Heights, who have been staying with the children, were visiting Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Sears, of the San Jacinto Fruit ranch, Mrs. Wilford is an aunt of Luther Johnston, of Irvine.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 2.—The regular monthly meeting of the Westminster Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for Tuesday evening at the Westminster library.

Matters pertaining to the water and road questions will be taken under consideration. The senior church basketball team played Laguna Beach, losing by a score of 31-11.

Westminster school boys won a basketball game with Costa Mesa at Costa Mesa Thursday afternoon, the score being 15 to 9.

S. C. McCloud and wife have arrived from Columbia, South Carolina, for an indefinite visit with Mr. McCloud's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McCloud, of New Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dilling, of Bellflower, and Mrs. Russell McKee and Mrs. George Dilling of Independence, Mo., were Thursday morning visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Houtz of Oceanside, brother-in-law and sister of Wm. Buck, were visiting for a day with Mrs. Buck and daughters while enroute to the northern part of the state. The couple stopped over in Los Angeles to see Mr. Buck after leaving here.

Raymond Penhall left Friday morning for Chowchilla, taking a truck load of stock for Armand Heil to the Heil ranch and is bringing back a load of hay.

Mrs. Viola Johnson, cousin of Mrs. Chas. Walton, and her children motored here from Bellflower as guests of the Waltons.

Mr. Chultz, former resident of the present John M. Angell place, called one day at the Joe Walton home. Mr. Chultz who now resides in Nebraska, is out on a visit and staying for the present in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snodgrass entertained as overnight guests, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown and family, of Laguna Beach, and the following day, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Petro and children and Mr. and Mrs. Will Culbertson and children, of Long Beach, joined the party at a dinner given in honor of Mrs. Brown, who was celebrating a birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, who has been convalescing at her home following a minor operation, has returned to her work in Long Beach. Clyde Day, Dr. Russell L. Johnson, Prof. James Monroe, Harold Peterson, Ray Burns, Orvil Day, Wandle Beeler were of a group of local men who were at the Huntington Beach gymnasium Thursday evening.

CHURCH NIGHT PROGRAM WILL BE LAUNCHED

Church Nights offering courses by leading educators, preachers, and teachers with a view to illuminating the minds and hearts of people in religious thinking for this complex age, will be conducted by the First Presbyterian and First Methodist churches of this city beginning next Wednesday evening and continuing for eight consecutive Wednesday nights.

Arrangements have been made with the assembly speaker to speak at both churches at different hours. Dr. J. Hudson Ballard of the Department of Philosophy and Religion at Occidental College will speak at the Methodist Church at 8:45 o'clock, immediately following the dinner. He will then use the same address at the Presbyterian church at 7:40 o'clock. The general theme will be "The New Psychology and Christianity."

The program will consist of a fellowship and supper hour at 8:00 o'clock. A regular meal will be served for a very low price in order that it may be an appeal to entire families to eat at the church on these nights.

There will follow a period of study classes under the best of instructors for all age groups. Courses are offered that will make an appeal to adults and young people of high school and college age. The younger boys and girls and children will have adequate supervision.

An assembly group of all the groups and classes will gather to hear the message of Dr. J. Hudson Ballard. Dr. Ballard's subjects are non-technical, very practical, and deal with the application of psychology to evangelical Christianity as we know it today.

Church Night is the whole church at study; it is a Church Night for the whole family aiming to discover sociability, service, and a new interpretation of old truths; enabling us to be better prepared for life in its fullest aspect.

Church Night will begin Wednesday, February 4th with the 8:00 o'clock dinner at the First Presbyterian and First Methodist churches.

KREG PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR ENTIRE FAMILY

Beginning at 5:30 p. m. today KREG will provide radio programs of interest to the entire family, ending with an all request record program, from 8 to 10 p. m.

The children's hour, with Lorene Credy, will launch tonight's entertainment on the air. It will be heard from 5:30 to 6 p. m. The children's hour is on the air each Monday, Wednesday and Friday and is proving one of the most popular KREG features.

Tune in on this program. The four See sisters, the "Youngest Quartet" and a group of individual junior artists will entertain with songs, readings and musical numbers.

A farm bureau talk by H. C. Head, Santa Ana attorney, on use of water by gun clubs, will be given from 7 to 7:15 p. m. This question is of paramount importance to farmers. Red Seal records will be played from 7:15 to 7:45 p. m. and old time records will be on the air from 7:45 to 8 p. m.

Velma Browne, child vocalist, will entertain from 8 to 8:15 p. m. Ole and Ralph, known as "Those Two Boys," will entertain from 8:15 to 8:45 p. m. Lyle Anderson, tenor, will sing from 8:45 to 9 p. m. The Shoppers' Guide, with music, will be on the air from 6 to 6:45 p. m. and will appeal to men as well as women. News of the day will be read from 6:45 to 7 p. m.

'PEE WEE' RADIO SETS ON DISPLAY

Something new and different in radio sets has been developed and today Robert Gerwing, Santa Ana radio dealer, was showing one of the first "Pee Wee" sets ever exhibited in Santa Ana. This set is produced by the Echophone company of Hollywood, which brought out the first midset radio a little over a year ago.

The "Pee Wee" set is just one-half the size of the former midsets but contains all the features of the former, having five tubes, three of which are screen grid, tone control, dial light and a specially built dynamic speaker. The set is enclosed in a walnut cabinet and its complete weight is 14 pounds. Another novel feature is the offering of various colors in boudoir models.

Tustin Concerns Sponsor School Radio Programs

The Whitson Lumber company of Tustin today sponsored the program broadcast over KREG by remote control from the Tustin high school studio. Each school day a program of general interest is broadcast from the Tustin school, featuring pipe organ music.

Tomorrow the program will be sponsored by the Tustin Cement Pipe company.

Each Wednesday one of the other high schools of the county puts on a 20-minute entertainment from the Tustin studio. This week the San Juan Capistrano high school will provide the entertainment. The program will be sponsored by the C. P. Art Grocery company, of Tustin.

Bad Breath spoils the sweetest smile

Every Stomach Sufferer Has It—Tanic Corrects It

THAT disgusting "brown" morning taste in your mouth, a whitish or yellow coated tongue—these are sure signs your breath is bad.

The tongue and mouth is nothing more or less than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. When the condition below is upset and badly digested food is souring in these organs, your breath tells the story and all the mouth washes and antiseptics can't mask its offending odor for more than a few minutes. Get a bottle today of Tanic to correct this condition.

Taken before meals Tanic prevents formation of gas and acids so there is no sourness, flatulence or distress. Tanic helps regulate the bowels, too, and so with your system free of poisonous toxins and acids see how your breath is immediately sweetened. Get a bottle today of your druggist. Accept no substitute. Satisfaction or money back.

SMELTZER
Feb. 2.—Mrs. Vernon Hell and sons, Billy and Bobby, who have all been ill with influenza, are out again.

Mrs. E. S. Hell, of Santa Ana, is spending a week at the old home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Holsclaw.

Mrs. Charles Parr attended the dinner of the Happy Workers' society in Westminster Wednesday.

Mrs. Charles Applebury and children motored to Whittier as guests of Mrs. Applebury's niece, Mrs. C. E. Noll.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Smeltzer Lima Bean Growers' association was called this week and at this time a contract was signed with an oil company whereby all members of the association may secure gasoline and oils at a set price.

The bean cleaning at the warehouse is not being completed this week as had been expected, but will close within a week, the final lots of beans now going over the drapers.

Almost every rancher in the Smeltzer district is busy irrigating and many are keeping their pumps going day and night.

PNEUMONIA PROTECTION
WASHINGTON. — Scientific research by the Rockefeller Institute has produced what is thought to be a protection against pneumonia. It is in the form of a bacillus found in the cranberry bogs of New Jersey.

HAVE TO MOVE, NOW
LANCASTER, Pa., — Mrs. Eli Aucker tried to get her husband to move. She didn't like their house, but Eli did. He refused to move. But Mrs. Eli made him. She set fire to the house by saturating the dining room with oil and then touching it off with a match, it is alleged. Eli moved.

HIGH SCHOOL PAPER
NEWPORT HEIGHTS, Feb. 2.—The editorial staff of the Harbor Hi Beacon, official paper of the Newport union high school, was elected recently. Margaret Hoefner is editor-in-chief, Dorothy Ensign, assistant editor; Virginia Rugg, clubs; Susie Gillis, personals; Harlan Bowman, classes; Frances Gordon, girls' sports; Joe Wilson, boys' sports.

The biology class of the school, under the direction of Mr. Worden, enjoyed a combination pleasure jaunt swimming party and study period Saturday, when they formed a beach party to study various forms of shells along the beach. Many interesting specimens were found and will be discussed at classes this week.

The hockey field of the Newport harbor union high school is being prepared for practice this week, according to an announcement by Miss Margaret Hoefner, president of the Girls' Athletic association, and all girls interested in the game are urged to participate.

Landscaping Of Gillogly Property
On Grand Started
ORANGE, Feb. 2.—Work of landscaping the grounds at the property known here as the Royer place at the corner of Chapman avenue and Grand street, is under way. Work of remodeling the building will be started soon and the place, which is to be the future location of the Gillogly Funeral home, is to be enlarged.

The three large date palms on the Chapman street side were removed Saturday and a cement walk is to circle the building. Gillogly became owner of the property this winter.

Plans for remodeling the two-story building are being designed by Newton Richards, of Santa Ana, and it is expected that work on the structure will be completed by July 1.

HEAD TO TALK OVER KREG ON WATER WASTE

Horace Head, Santa Ana attorney, a recognized authority on water law, will talk over KREG from 7 to 7:15 p. m. on the topic "Can We Afford to Continue to Use Water for Gun Clubs in Orange County?"

His talk will be heard on the Orange County Farm bureau program broadcast each Monday night over KREG.

Bills relating to waste of water in California have been introduced in the assembly and senate of the state by Assemblyman Ted Craig and Senator Nelson T. Edwards.

The subject of water wastage is one that is of vital importance to cities and farming areas as well in Orange county and Head is regarded as a man whose thoughts on the question are of more than ordinary significance.

Every day more Santa Ana housewives are demanding Bucket Syrup

Good news spreads fast.

Alert housewives have discovered Bucket Syrup, and they are telling their friends. For here's a syrup they can recommend... a syrup made only of pure maple sugar from the hillsides of Vermont and Canada and pure granulated cane sugar. Nothing else!

Bucket Syrup is not just another syrup. The secret of its rare, fine flavor... of its healthfulness... of its mellow sweetness is all bound up in a blending process—timed blending—which belongs exclusively to Bucket Syrup. Made by masters of syrup blending of over 40 years' experience. That's the answer!

Try Bucket Syrup today. Note the handy table-size bucket with the new non-spilling spout. Note the flavor. Maple... just as Nature made it for you... a flavor that lingers! No wonder clever housewives order it again and again!

What a treat on waffles, French toast, hot biscuits, griddle cakes, or as a flavor for grape-fruit, beverages and ice cream.

GILMORE LION HEAD Purest Pennsylvania MOTOR OIL

The Most Highly Filtered Motor Oil In America... Not Acid Treated

Lion Head Motor Oil is filtered—not merely once or twice as most oils—but many complete times. This removes every possible vestige of impurities. It produces the toughest, most durable and highly efficient motor oil obtainable. Many oils are "acid treated" to remove sulphur and unstable compounds—but Lion Head contains none of these originally—hence it is not acid treated.

No other motor oil in America regardless of source is subjected to such a careful routine of refining—that's why it gives "double mileage"—and it costs you no more per quart at Independent Stations and Garages.

AUTOISTS SAFE BY INCHES AT CROSSING GATE

Rushing to the bedside of a dying sister in a Los Angeles hospital, Saturday night, Virginia I. Brown, and her mother, of Oceanside, narrowly escaped death at First street and the Santa Fe railroad tracks when they raced a fast passenger train to the crossing and won—by inches.

The crossing gates were down at the time and red lights were swinging from the ends of the gates. The Brown car crashed through at breakneck speed, and the speeding engine of the passenger train barely missed the sedan in which the girl and her mother were riding.

The story of the narrow escape had reached the ears of Santa Ana police officers before the full story was learned, for Miss Brown did not report to police until she and her mother passed back through Santa Ana yesterday afternoon, when they stopped at the jail.

Although they won the race across the railroad crossing, they lost their race with death to Los Angeles, for when they arrived there, the sister had died.

PAIR RETURNED HERE TO FACE CHECK CHARGES

Alvin Frazier and his wife, Marjorie, today were in the Orange county jail awaiting preliminary examination in connection with a charge of uttering a forged note, following their arrest Friday in Stockton for the sheriff's office. They were returned here Sunday by Merle Dean, deputy sheriff, and today were arraigned in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court.

Time of the preliminary examination has been set for February 2 at 9 a. m. Bail of $5000, set in each case, has not been made by the defendants.

According to the district attorney's office, Frazier and his wife stole $160 worth of traveler's checks, together with two rings worth approximately $100 and a pocketbook from the automobile of Mrs. Robert Samuelson, of Chicago, while the car was parked in Holtville, on January 17, but the charge here concerns the asserted cashing of a check for $10 at the Reihl Meat market on D street in Tustin, on the same day.

Leo J. Ellis, deputy district attorney who is handling the case, declared that Frazier admitted that the checks had been cashed up and down the coast between here and Stockton and that he had six of the checks on his person when he was arrested but managed to get rid of them before he was searched. "We are only concerned with the one check for $10, which was cashed at Tustin, however," he said.

AUTO CRASHES INJURE SIX IN ORANGE COUNTY

The Fate that decides automobile accidents in Orange county ever week-ends, was unusually kind during the past 48 hours when only three auto crashes were reported. Six persons were injured, none believed seriously, and one man was arrested as the result of an accident.

When his car is asserted to have crashed into a machine driven by Edgar Gerrard, of Laguna Beach, on the Coast highway, near the Santa Ana river bridge at 11 o'clock Saturday night, Jack R. Sargent, of Newport Beach, was arrested by State Traffic Officer Frank Vaughn, and lodged in the county jail, charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor.

Gerrard and his wife both were cut and bruised in the crash. They were taken to the Newport Beach hospital and later removed to their home at Laguna by Officer Vaughn. Sargent was expected to be arraigned before Justice Kenneth Morrison this afternoon on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. DeVore, of Huntington Beach, and their six months old baby all were injured Saturday night when the car in which they were riding collided with another machine on the Coast highway north of the beach city. The driver of the other machine is asserted to have stopped, walked back to the wrecked DeVore machine but failed to render aid or give his name and address. Other motorists did procure the number of the car, it was reported, and Judge Pann at Huntington Beach was reported to have issued a warrant for the driver's arrest. The DeVore family was taken to Huntington Beach for first aid treatment and then removed to their home.

R. W. Logan, 73, of Costa Mesa, suffered a broken leg at 7 p. m. yesterday when he was run down by a car reported driven by Philip Wangler, of Route No. 2, Santa Ana. The accident occurred at Costa Mesa.

According to Wangler, who took the man to the Orange county hospital, Logan stepped out in front of his machine and was struck before he could apply his brakes.

Construction Of Post Office To Begin Here Soon

Construction work on the new Santa Ana post office building will begin the latter part of this week, according to an announcement made today by officials of the R. J. Shute company, who were awarded the general contract on the building. Mr. Barr, representing the Shute company, is here already in regard to bids on the sub-contracts and is making arrangements for material. The sub-contracts are expected to be given this week.

Some building equipment has been moved here and a tool shed has been built on the post office site.

The West's New Wildest Wild Animal

Every old-timer, deep down in his heart, has a sneaking fondness for the stubborn, tough-skinned, discordant-voiced little companion of his lonely travels.

If he can break into a chuck wagon . . . he consumes bread, bacon, flour, beans . . . shirts or boots are appetizers.

Burros roaming the streets of Miami, Arizona. . . Here they are docile, and quite harmless.

By ODESSA DAVENPORT

"YOU probably won't believe it," says M. E. Musgrave, game specialist of the United States Forest Service, "but wild burros are the wildest wild animals in the southwest. By that I mean they are the trickiest, the most savage, the farthest removed from man and civilization, of all the animals that come under my observation."

Since Mr. Musgrave's official observation covers a territory which includes Arizona and New Mexico, his estimate of the wild burro has the authoritative ring of first-hand knowledge.

"Even mountain lions have a wholesome respect for them," went on Mr. Musgrave. "We have no record of a mountain lion ever having killed a wild burro. The big cats don't even try very often. They know better."

"But they are inordinately fond of wild burro meat and once in a long time they will take a chance on getting some. I was once fortunate enough to come upon the evidences of such a venture on the part of an especially daring or perhaps extremely hungry mountain lion."

"It was in the Castle Hot Springs country," Mr. Musgrave continued. "I was on horseback and alone. In the distance I saw what looked like two burros, one of them quite small. I rode toward them. They moved slowly away, the mother keeping between me and the colt."

"I know at once that something was wrong, since ordinarily they would have been out of sight before I turned my horse's head toward them. I followed, gaining on them without any difficulty. They were a sorry sight. The mother's head was badly swollen and there were great blood-rimmed gashes on her forelegs and thighs. She was so stiff she could scarcely walk, and her baby was not much better off."

"I suspected the cause of their plight and was interested enough to backtrack them several miles. Suddenly I came upon signs of a terrific struggle. Bushes were broken off and uprooted. The ground was trampled and there were unmistakable marks in the dust of great animals surging in mortal combat."

"Two large handfuls, or rather mouthfuls, of tawny mountain lion hair helped me to construct the scene. The mother burro had evidently bitten them off in defense of her little one's life and had come off victorious."

THE tame burro is a stolid, plodding beast, the true friend and patient burden bearer of all who journey far into the strange, wild deserts of the southwest. He is romantic as well as utilitarian, and is eulogized alike by sordid prospectors and eastern tourists.

In spite of modernized methods of transportation which have made a horse a curiosity and a mule unknown, the burro holds almost unchallenged his place of honor in the economic scheme of the southwest.

That is, he does until he has a generation or two of freedom in that hinterland known locally as "back in the hills." Then he goes native and reverts to what must have been his original state thousands of years ago.

The wild burro is much more intelligent than his brother of the pack saddle. To his stock of native intelligence, which is admittedly large, he has added the fund of knowledge acquired through his long contact with man and which he craftily hid under a mask of stupidity as long as he could not use it to his own advantage.

However, a few whiffs of the heady air of freedom are enough to bring about an astonishing change and the patient burden bearer of the trails sheds most of his former limitations and all of his inhibitions with his first winter's coat of shaggy hair.

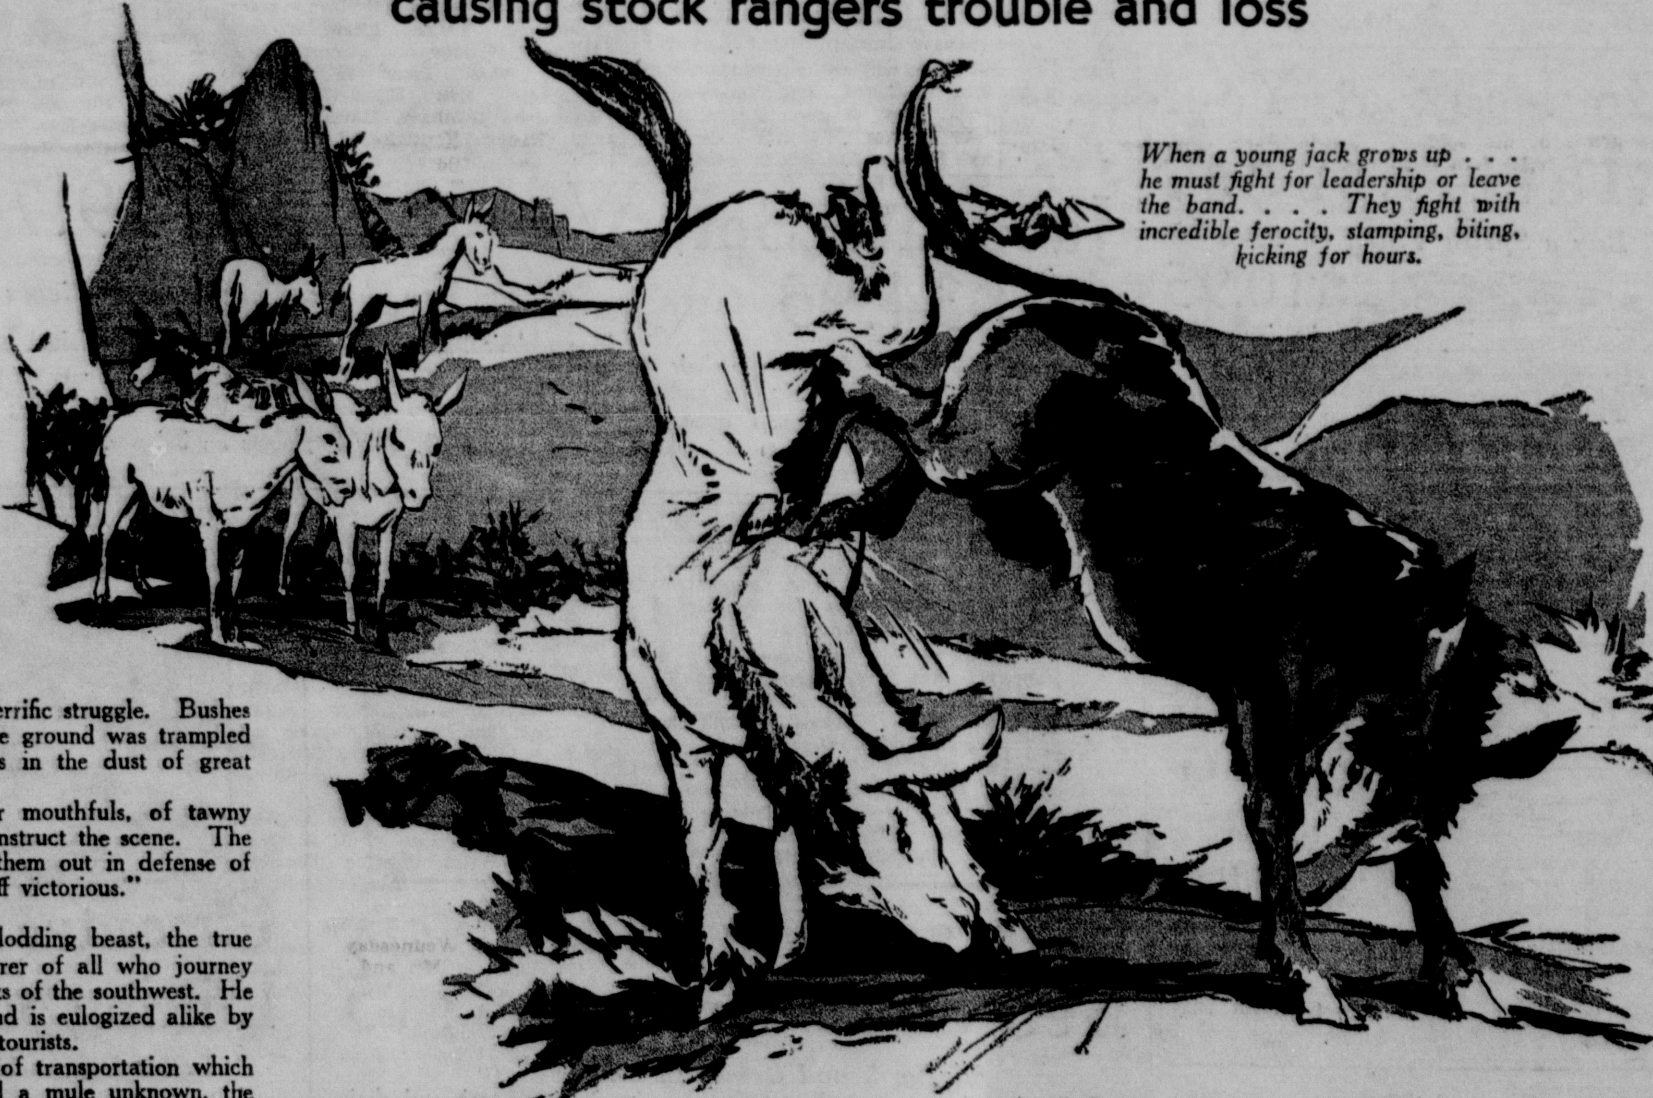

The miner, the prospector and the man with the pack train, these are the ones who gave the wild burro a place in the sun. When, in the early days of the southwest, these men no longer needed the services of their pack animals they turned them loose to shift for themselves.

SURPRISINGLY, they did very well, indeed. From a slow, stupid beast of small wit, initiative or resource, they developed quickness, agility and cunning.

They also very soon re-established among themselves their old tribal monarchy. This is a highly efficient system of government in which one jack lords it over a band of from 20 to 30 jennys and colts. He defends his harem from attack and leads it in aggression.

When a young jack grows up he must fight for leadership or leave the band, to start a new harem of his own. If he fails in this, he is doomed to roam alone and die at last, an outcast, with every burro's hoof against him. Ac-

How the sleepy and once tame little burros, often known as "desert canaries," have been allowed to roam at large until now they are ferocious and cunning beasts that will fight mountain lions and drive cattle from grass land and water hole, causing stock rangers trouble and loss cording to Mr. Musgrave, fights between the jacks are characterized by incredible ferocity.

When a young jack grows up . . . he must fight for leadership or leave the band. . . They fight with incredible ferocity, stamping, biting, kicking for hours.

Sometimes the battle continues for hours. Stamping, kicking, biting, they tear great patches of skin, even pieces of flesh, from the body of their antagonist. The victory goes to the one with the most endurance.

VERY rarely does one kill the other, the burro being practically invulnerable. Even the meek little servants of the trail are noted for their insensitiveness to pain and fatigue. This quality becomes intensified after a few years of freedom.

"They're the toughest things on four legs," is Mr. Musgrave's estimate of them. "The only way you can kill a wild burro is to shoot him. And getting within range is not easy. It is less difficult to stalk a deer than it is a wild burro. Burros seem to have a sixth sense that tells them when danger is near. And immediately they disappear like magic."

Their quickness is not the only thing that gets and keeps them out of sight. They have the finest kind of protective coloration coupled with an uncanny ability to stand absolutely still for long spaces of time. It is practically impossible to see an immobile burro at a distance of 100 yards unless you already know he is there. At 200 you couldn't pick him out against a background of rocky hillside to save your life. And he knows it. Don't ask how. He just does.

Even the tame burro, a pale reflection of his brother of the canyon and mesa, is an adept at hiding. Hobbled and turned out to graze, he finds perfectly diabolical means of secreting himself. There is an old prospector at Salome who, when asked how long he had been hunting gold, replied: "Forty years. But 20 of them I spent hunting my pack burros."

DICK BRADY, one of the important cattle men of Arizona, also knows how elusive the burro can be.

Mr. Brady became weary of having cattle chased away from water holes on his range, tired of finding calves wantonly killed, enraged at the terrorized state of his herds, all this damage done, he knew, by a large band of wild burros. He had a pretty good idea of where they were.

One day he called his cowboys together and they started after the renegade burros. All day they rode and sweated and struggled. These were seasoned men, remember, who knew the country as you know your own back yard. At evening they returned to the ranch house with one of their best saddle horses crippled, and brought as the net result of all their sound and fury, one small burro colt.

The wild burro ranges today practically undisturbed in isolated regions of Arizona, Utah and New Mexico. His numbers are increasing and he has become a real menace to all grazing animals, both domesticated and wild. He not only decreases the food supply, but he has been known in several cases to have killed calves, apparently for the sheer love of killing. It was at a water hole near Meteor Mountain in northern Arizona that Mr. Musgrave, carefully secreted, saw a wild jack attack and kill a young calf. With one crunch of his powerful jaws the burro broke the calf's back. Then he tossed it to the ground and trampled its head with his sharp hoofs.

The number of wild burros roaming the southwest is far greater than even the stockmen imagine, according to Mr. Musgrave. He is in a position to know, for many times he has lain hidden all night by a water hole, watching, checking, even counting them. He has tabulated their numbers in the Castle Hot Springs country and taken their census around Canyon Diablo. He knows approximately how many range in the great side canyons of the Colorado.

AND Mr. Musgrave does not like them. He does, however, accord them an unwilling, albeit somewhat rueful respect.

Stockmen indict the wild burro on three counts. The first is that of driving cattle away from water holes. The second is his wanton slaughter of calves. The third is his depletion of the grass on the range.

The matter of keeping stock from water holes is a serious one. Cattle die quickly in the desert country when deprived of water. One calf with a broken back is a disaster and large numbers of them spell financial ruin for their unfortunate owner. The matter of depleting the range is grave in a country where there is rarely enough grass to keep the herds safely from one season to the next.

And the burro is an omnivorous eater. He likes grass when he can get it, but the leaves of trees will do as well. If he can break into a chuck wagon or cache of supplies he is inordinately happy, consuming bread, bacon, flour, beans, even fresh meat with apparently equal satisfaction. Garments such as shirts or boots are not much more than appetizers to him, and he has been known in times of stress to gnaw fence posts and small trees almost down to the ground.

Cattlemen are not the only ones to whom the wild burro presents a puzzling problem. Range authorities are lying awake nights trying to figure out what to do with him. But their dilemma is not so much practical as it is theoretical. How is he to be legally labeled, is the question that disturbs them.

He is not a game animal. Neither does he properly come under the heading of a predatory beast, though to the cowman looking at his dead calves, he may appear to be all of that, and then some. Obviously, he is not a rodent. In spite of his cognomen of "desert canary," no one even suggests that he is a bird. Wayward and intractable in this as in everything else, he even defies proper classification.

THE wild burro, though numerically as important as the wild horse, has not received the publicity so freely given to his four-footed cousin. One reason is that the haunts of the wild burro are far removed from the beaten paths. Many people, even those who pride themselves on knowing their southwest, are unaware of his existence.

Another cause of this obscurity is that he does not lend himself to the purposes of writers of romantic fiction as does the wild horse.

It is conceded by stockmen and wild game experts alike that individual and sporadic attempts to control the wild burro menace are just so much lost motion. His numbers are too great, he ranges over too wide a territory and he is too darned smart.

No one, however, not even the deeply exasperated cattlemen, has any desire to exterminate the shaggy little trouble-maker of the wilds. The southwest owes him too great a debt for his services of the past in opening up its mines, and realizes too well its future need of him.

But there is a widespread sentiment in favor of materially reducing his numbers, leaving only a reserve stock, as it were, to be drawn upon as the occasion demanded. For there is much prospecting, much packing over mountain trails, much burden bearing yet to be done in the southwest and there is no animal except the burro possessing the requisite surefootedness and rugged endurance.

There is another reason even more potent than that of expediency why the native southwesterner does not advocate extermination for the burro, though no one ever speaks of it. Every old-timer, deep down in his heart, has a sneaking fondness for the stubborn, tough-skinned, discordant-voiced little companion of his lonely travels.

Late News From Orange County Communities

Government Control Plan Attacked In Church Address

SALOONS HIT BY LECTURER IN BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, Feb. 2.—(Gov.) Government control of the liquor would mean the return of the saloons," was the message brought to a congregation in the Buena Park Congregational church Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Andrew Johnson, noted lecturer from Kentucky. Continuing he said: "The plea of the wet forces is that they do not want the saloons back, but only the return of light wines and beer, and whenever liquor is brought and sold the saloons will be brought back."

"The liquor traffic was firmly entrenched in custom and personal and political lies, organization, and vice, U. S. government and the vested interests on the United States Constitution, and was overthrown through the unfavorable impression on the minds of Christian people by the breaking of practically every law on the statute books."

The program was sponsored by the Buena Park W. C. T. U. Community singing was led by the Rev. Burton Y. Neal, with Mrs. C. H. Smith at the organ. The Rev. Mr. Neal introduced the speaker and announced Illinois day for February 5, with special services in the morning and evening and a program in the afternoon. A noon luncheon will be served in the social hall by the women of the church.

C. E. JUBILEE IS CELEBRATED IN BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, Feb. 2.—The Christian Endeavor "Golden Jubilee" was celebrated by the Buena Park Congregational church senior and intermediate societies with special services in the social hall Sunday at 5 o'clock.

The Rev. George Taylor, of Whittier, gave the history of the organization of Christian Endeavor, using the pledge as the theme for his message.

Richard Davis was in charge of the program. Community singing was led by Glenn Newman, with piano accompaniment by Charlotte Greenawald.

Special services marked the lighting of the birthday cake, which was trimmed with 50 gold tangles. Members marched around the altar and deposited pennies, according to their age.

Refreshments of cake, cocoa and fello were served during the social hour. Iva and Irene Thornton and Jessie and Elsie Ashlock served on the hostess committee. Streamers of white and gold were used in decorating the hall and altar, and this color scheme was also used in the refreshments.

Announcement was made of a Valentine party for the Senior Endeavor, February 14.

GLIDER LOOP RECORD

GLENDAL—A record for glider loops was established here by Lyman Voelkel recently. He was towed to a height of 4500 feet, where he cut loose and ended up a few hundred feet from the ground after he had completed his twentieth loop. He broke his own former record of 17 loops.

SULPHUR Quick Way to Heal Up Eruptions

Many Doctors Use It

More than a million men and women who suffer from pain and embarrassment attending eruptions, rash, itch or blotches on face, neck, arms or body have discovered the doctor knows best. Nothing has been found to take the place of this compound of sulphur and other valuable medicinal agents. It is best for Rash—Scabies—Blemishes—Chapping—Reticular Itch—Pimples—Ringworm—Itching of Eczema—Dandruff—Scalds. Get a jar of Rowles' Mentho Sulphur from a druggist and anoint the infected areas with it before going to bed. Relief from burn and itch comes almost instantly. Ugly blemishes soon disappear and the skin clears right up. Use what doctors use—Rowles' Mentho Sulphur.

Church Society Names Officers

PLACENTIA, Feb. 2.—Election of officers was held by the Dorcas society of Calvary church at the regular all day meeting last week at the church.

Mrs. C. L. Green was elected president, taking the place of Mrs. Grover Murdock. Mrs. Dan Henry was elected vice president, and Mrs. George Crosby, of Fullerton, was treasurer, while the office of secretary was not filled.

Reports included one on the East Indian girl who is being educated by the society, and a letter from Roe Williams Tugby, South American missionary.

Twenty members were present at the dinner, and the February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. B. Grammer, who will provide the dinner, the proceeds from it being turned over to the society.

SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, Feb. 2.—Dr. Joe Alexander, of Merced, Texas, father-in-law of Thomas E. Murphy Jr., of San Clemente, left for Texas with his wife Sunday after spending a short visit in San Clemente. Miss Arabella Alexander, a daughter, will continue her visit with her sister here, Mrs. Thomas F. Murphy Jr.

Bert Latham, worshipful master; Thomas F. Murphy Jr., senior warden and Trafford Hufson, junior warden of the San Clemente lodge of Masons, attended the meeting of the Occidental lodge Saturday afternoon and evening, meeting Grand Master John Stewart Ross.

John Killen, San Clemente, announces that he has purchased the trucking and garbage collection company operated by Earl Moore, who is now the Pacific Grayhound Lines agent in the Spanish village.

If Your Ears Ring With Head Noises

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to McCoy Drug Store or your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmit (double strength), and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

'FAITH' TOPIC OF FULLERTON PASTOR SUNDAY

FULLERTON, Feb. 2.—"The Reward of Faith" was the subject of the sermon yesterday morning by the Rev. Francis E. Hawes, pastor of the First Baptist church of Fullerton. The Rev. Mr. Hawes said, in part:

"Hebrews 11:1 gives a divine definition of faith. 'Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.' In Heb. 11:6 we are told that 'without faith it is impossible to please God.' Faith then, is essential. Essential to salvation, essential to pleasing God. Saving faith is more than mental assent. The majority of people in the world believe in a historical Christ. They approve the fact. But approval is one thing and appropriation is quite another thing."

"Saving faith brings results. We have an illustration in the fall of Jericho. The children of Israel were commanded to march around the city once a day for six days. On the seventh day they were to march around seven times and then when the priests blew the trumpets, the people were to shout, and the promise was that the walls would be leveled to the ground. They believed God and then faith brought results."

"Saving faith leads to action. In Acts 16:25-34 we have an illustration of this. Paul and Barnabas were in prison, an earthquake shook the prison and the doors were opened. The jailer, thinking that the prisoners had escaped, was about to take his life, but when he discovered the prisoners all present, he became concerned about his soul and asked Paul the question, 'What must I do to be saved?' In answer Paul said, 'Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved.' His belief led him to action, for we read that he 'washed their stripes and was baptized.' These acts were outward expressions of an inward faith which saved him. Saving faith not only leads to action, but it leads to right action. Sir Harry Lauder is quoted as saying, as he stood at the grave of his soldier son, 'When a great crisis like this comes into a man's life there are three possible things for him to do. He may scour on the world and become a grog, he may try to drown his sorrow in drink and become a wreck, or he may turn to God.'

Reward of Faith

"So it makes a great deal of difference what one believes and how one acts. Saving faith leads one to turn to God through faith in Jesus Christ. The reward of faith is suggested in the text, Matt. 9:22. This poor woman had many difficulties. 1. Bodily weakness, Mark 14:38. Crowds were thronging to Jesus, and this would be a hindrance to the woman in getting close enough to touch Him. The world stands between many a seeking soul and the Saviour, Luke 19:3. The opinions of men were against her. They had pronounced her incurable, Luke 8:43. Note the simplicity of her faith. She believed Christ could heal her. Cp. Mark 9:23. Rom. 8:32. Phil. 4:19.

"See the completeness of her cure. 'Thy faith hath made thee whole.' Note the promise of satisfaction, 'Go in peace.'"

Two closing thoughts:

"1. Jesus came minister to humanity's every need. He is able. Eph. 3:20.

"2. Nothing should keep a needy world from Him. 'Mark 1:17-20."

BREA

BREA, Feb. 2.—Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Jarvis spent Saturday at Tujunga, where they visited Mrs. Jarvis' son, Bert Phlegley, who moved there some months ago from three years' sojourn in Victorville.

Convalecients in Brea are Mrs. R. W. Spensley, Miss Helen Henigan, W. A. Bushnell and Mrs. Charles Croteau, all of whom have been quite ill.

Newcomers to Brea are D. A. Linebarger and family and A. Miller and family. Coming here from Cypress, the Linebargers are living at 417 South Orange street. Mr. Linebarger being employed by the Shell Oil company. The Miller family came to Brea from Indiana. Mr. Miller is a brother of Mrs. Toy, South Madrona avenue.

Miss Margaret Culp is enjoyable her mid-term vacation from studies at Occidental college at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Culp. She will return to Pasadena tomorrow.

5 Fishermen Plan Jaunt By Airplane

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 2.—Probably one of the most unusual adventures by airplane made in the history of aviation to date is being planned by three Orange county fliers, to start this week. It was learned here today from Vern Speich, local birdman and holder of the world's solo endurance record.

Speich and two others are planning to start Wednesday morning in three planes on a fishing trip to various parts of Mexico, which may take them as far south and east as Mexico City. They expect to stop at Nogales, Hermosillo, Guaymas, Mazatlan and Guadalupe, perhaps Mexico City, and to be away 10 days or two weeks.

Speich will pilot a Stearman plane, with Calvin Lambert of Santa Ana as his passenger. Bob and Bill Jeffrey, brothers of County Supervisor George Jeffrey, will fly an Eagle Rock plane, and Ralph Mitchell, Tustin rancher, with one other enthusiastic angler, will be in the third machine, a Ryan.

GERMAN REMEDY STOPS 30-YEAR CONSTIPATION

"For 30 years I had a bad stomach and constipation. Suffering from stomach choked me. Since taking Adlerika I am a new woman. Constipation is thing of the past."—Alice Burns.

Most remedies reach only lower bowel. That is why you must take them often. But this simple German remedy Adlerika washes out BOTH upper and lower bowels. It brings out all gas and ride of poison you would never believe was in your system. Even the FIRST dose will surprise you. McCoy Drug Co.—Adv.

Ask Pioneers To Serve On Committee

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 2.—Residents of this city who were living here 25 years ago when the city was incorporated and who are still active in public affairs will be asked to become members of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce committee which is to arrange the 25th anniversary fête to start on September 1, the date of the 25th anniversary, and which it is planned to extend for nine days, including Labor day and State Admission day.

J. P. Greeley, director of the chamber who was here 25 years ago, is chairman of the committee. Lawrence S. Mr. and Mrs. Briggs are Costa Mesans.

The following selections were included in the hour of music: "Vesper Hour," R. M. Stuits; "Intermezzo," Herbert Ralph Ward; "Triumphal March," Cuthbert Harris; "Pastorale," James H. Rogers; "Spring Song," Mendelssohn; "Echoes of Spring," Frick; "A Song of the Heart," Gordon Williams; and "Evening Meditation," Edward M. Read, all organ numbers by Mrs. Briggs.

"Invocation," and "Rossignolet," by J. Donjon, were flute numbers played by Mr. R. S. Briggs. "Benediction of Joseph," Goddard, and "Romance," E. Rentsch, were the selected cello numbers played by Edward Burns. "Serenade," Titi, and "Tender-Eve," Zamenick, were trio favorites played on the flute, cello and organ by the above artists.

"My Days Are in His Hands," E. R. Bull, and "My Task," Ashford, were contralto numbers sung by Mrs. Edward Burns. Mrs. Briggs accompanied all numbers at the organ.

D. J. Dodge, representing the Loyal Workers' class, spoke words of appreciation to the musicians who contributed the hour of pleasure.

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, Feb. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred French entertained as guests in their home recently. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor, of Los Angeles. The two couples were friends when both resided in the northern part of the state.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Speer, of Long Beach, the former a cousin of Mrs. C. C. Fulton, were entertained as dinner guests Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fulton.

W. H. Krepp spent Wednesday in Hollywood.

Mrs. B. F. Henderson motored to Long Beach for the day, remaining over to attend lodge meeting in the evening.

Friends who once formed a bridge club at Costa Mesa when all were residents there, were entertained as guests of one of the couples, Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, on the event of Mrs. Morrison's birthday anniversary, cards being played and refreshments served during the evening. At the party were Mrs. and Mrs. Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. Alex McAdams, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Horton and Mr. and Mrs. Morrison.

Mrs. T. T. Vaughn and daughter, Miss Christine Vaughn, and Miss Clara Lindstrom, have returned from Coalinga, where they motored at the time of the death of a young girl friend, Miss Vanda Langford. They attended the burial services, which were held at Fresno.

Mrs. W. H. Taylor attended the Treble Clef club meeting in Santa Ana one evening.

Mrs. Wilson, mother of Mrs. W. Warner, who has spent the winter in the Warner home, has gone to Los Angeles to reside. Mr. and Mrs. Mortiz have been showing Mr. Cameron, brother of Mr. Mortiz, who arrived recently, over Orange county. The visitor is of Gaik, Calif.

IMPROVEMENTS PROVIDE JOBS IN BEACH CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 2.—Work being carried on by the city of Newport Beach is helping to give employment to residents of this city and at the same time consummating improvements which will be of considerable value to the property owners and to residents. Mayor Mark Johnson in a statement issued during the week end told of the city administration's policy in this connection.

The street department is employing about 25 men on a part time basis, men being given work three days a week so as to take care of as many as possible, according to the statement. This is in line with an announcement made recently at a meeting of the city council by Councilman Paul Ellsworth, chairman of the street committee, who said every effort would be made to provide jobs for as many bona fide residents as possible.

Part of the work being done will be in connection with parks and beautification of the city, some money for this being available as a result of the carrying, last summer, of a three-cent park fund tax. Four-foot easements have been secured from the Pacific Electric on its wide right-of-way between Newport and Balboa. Geranium plants will be planted on both sides of the tracks now and later other shrubs will be set out between the geraniums.

DR. W. M. TIPPLE TALKS SUNDAY ON 'GOD CARES'

VILLA PARK, Feb. 2.—"The God Who Cares" was the theme of Dr. W. M. Tipple's sermon Sunday at the Villa Park congregational church. The text was found in 1 Peter 5:7, "Casting all your care upon Him for He careth for you."

All Your Care
Dr. Tipple said: "This is certainly a far-reaching statement. Peter does not say a part of your care. He does not say a little bit of your care, but ALL of your care; and this is the statement which I want to talk about. Most of us believe in a God of harmony; that is, we believe that God is so wise, so just, that He suits out that thing which will make for harmony everywhere. Harmony smooths the path of life. For instance, we watch the housewife as she carefully follows the recipe. She gets the result desired, whether it be pie, cake or whatnot. She has gained harmony. Sometimes the pie or cake may lack harmony and the housewife says, I had had look today, I put in too much of this or that, and failed to have harmony. We sit down in the audience, and hear the great orchestra. We are charmed by the symphony. Why? Because each one is playing a different tune? No, because each one is playing in agreement or harmony with his neighbor. We are pleased with the fragrance of the rose, or of the other flowers. The same harmony that is in nature, science and art, should exist between God and man."

Care and Anxiety
"Jesus said that God was Love and wished to free us from our burdens. Jesus came that men might have life and have it more abundantly. At some time or another in our lives we have felt the fret and toll of care, the gnawing of anxiety. It touches all classes. No one has ever escaped it. It does not touch just the common folk, as we are, but touches all; the learned, the rich, the poor, the ignorant."

"A definition of care and anxiety is 'Mental state arising from doubt; concern; solicitude; fear; uncertainty; desire for that which is forbidden.' Why do we all have that care and anxiety? There are many reasons, but I will mention only one or two; there is the anxiety that grows out of our moral obligations to our family and friends; the loss of health; the fear of failure in business. Fear has become the bogle man of many. They walk in an atmosphere of tragedy, there is an indefinable evil presence which stalks beside them. They are the victims of fear.

Gives Salvation
"Is there no way of getting rid of it? No relief? If there is no way what consolation is there in Christianity? Why should we not worship some god of the heathen? I do not believe we need to throw aside our Christianity. I do not believe we need to look any farther for a course. Peter gives us the solution. He tells us there is something we can do to meet the situation—cast on Him all our anxieties. This is not something new. Men always have been afraid and always through the ages have sought a cure. How shall we cast all our anxieties on Him? It requires trust in God, and faith in His promises. The eleventh chapter of Hebrews, gives us many examples. As it was in the hearts of men in the past, so we, too, must have a working knowledge of God. Here we fall by the way. We claim to believe in God and can't define Him. There are many conceptions of God. Some think of Him as a mighty force out yonder on the rim of the universe. Jesus brought us a conception of God as a father, but as yet, many have not understood. When we appreciate our limitations, then we are prepared to comprehend the power and loving kindness of God. Most of our fears never materialize. The burden may be heavy, but it is not real. When we are walking in the shadow, we know no glory of the sunlight, and while we are wandering in the storm, we cannot see the rainbow."

Orange Building Permits Aggregate $13,325 In Month

ORANGE, Feb. 2.—Building permits for the month of January totaled $13,325, according to figures compiled by Frank R. Dale, building inspector. The figures show a decided increase over those for the same period last year, when permits were $2800.

Three new dwellings are included in one permit and one of the remodeling jobs came to $1,300 and another remodeling job to $2,000.

According to Dale there is a good outlook for future building activity.

OLIVE

OLIVE, Feb. 2.—The Rev. E. H. Kreidt, A. W. Schmidt and Walter Krage represented St. Paul's Lutheran church at the special session of the Southern California district in Los Angeles Tuesday. The meeting was called by the president, the Rev. G. Smukal, to consider plans for missionary expansion in the Missouri Synod Lutheran church.

Mrs. A. W. Schmidt and children, Muriel and Geahette, spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. George Katzenberger, in Los Angeles.

C. E. MEMBERS ARE SPEAKERS SUNDAY NIGHT

EL MODENA, Feb. 2.—As Christian Endeavor societies all over the world are celebrating the 50th anniversary of the founding of their organizations, the Christian Endeavor society of Friends church had charge of the church service here Sunday night. The president of the society, Miss Elizabeth Skiles, presided and introduced the speakers.

After a song service, scripture reading, prayers and announcements, the young people sang "In Christ There Is No East or West." The Rev. Joseph G. Reese, pastor of the church, gave a solo, "For He Left the Realm of Light." Glen Moody, a member of the El Modena society and evangelist superintendent of the county union, was the first speaker, his subject being "The History of Christian Endeavor" and he gave some very interesting statistics.

Miss Gray Speaks

Miss Ruby Gray, of Whittier college, who is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Doris Gray, of El Modena, was the second speaker of the evening, her subject being "Accomplishments of Christian Endeavor." Miss Gray said: "Many thousands received inspiration when they found that just ordinary persons could work in Christian Endeavor. It has done a great deal for young people and has also been a great help to the church. Christian Endeavor has met the church need and has promoted friendliness and co-operation, especially among the different denominations, which in years past had feelings of enmity toward each other. The society gave birth to large mass conventions which attracted world-wide attention to a purely religious movement. It has helped young people to think for themselves. Christ is no respecter of persons and neither is Christian Endeavor. Members know what they believe and why they believe it."

Value of C. E.

Warren Mendenhall, of Anaheim, county executive advisor, who was Christian Endeavor president in 1923 and 1929, was the third speaker. His topic was "What Christian Endeavor Can Mean to Our Church and Young People." Mr. Mendenhall said in part: "I believe the organization which is good for the church is also good for the young people. Christian Endeavor as a young people's organization, creates an interest in the church. The convention also creates an interest in the church. I feel that it influences the young people to come to church and trains the young people for the work of the church. It is valuable training for church work. In the past I feel that many thought all the church work was carried on by the old people, but Christian Endeavor assures future leadership and continued influence of the church."

Blot On Landscape

"A dead church is a blot on the landscape. It is a stumbling block and an excuse for the sinner. Christian Endeavor strives to urge the sinner to consecrate his entire life to Christ. What great leaders we have had in Christian Endeavor! When I was in France, Francis E. Clark and his wife, who were then old people, came to talk on the work of this organization and what a pleasure it was to listen to him. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, our present leader, is one of the outstanding Christians, a man who stands head and shoulders above any of us. In California we have the Brown brothers, who are both very spiritual. I think one of the great things about Christian Endeavor is that it is interdenominational."

S. A. Man Faces Driving Charge

ORANGE, Feb. 2.—William White, 1102 Spurgeon street, Santa Ana, is scheduled to appear tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock before Judge A. W. Swazy on a charge of reckless driving.

The complaint against White is the result of an automobile accident in which White was involved Saturday morning, when the car he was driving is said to have crashed into one driven by Fred Eckhoff, route 2, at the corner of West Chapman avenue and Batavia street.

The Eckhoff car was turned over and Miss Elsie Eckhoff, 29, was cut and bruised.

10th Anniversary Is Celebrated At Olive Gathering

OLIVE, Feb. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Luchau were pleasantly surprised by their friends with a party held in observance of their 10th wedding anniversary in the social hall of the Lutheran school Friday evening. After spending the evening at progressive "500," a cafeteria lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served. Mrs. Herman Meierhoff and Herbert Meierhoff turned in high scores, while Mrs. Herbert Timme and Arthur Harms were low. Mr. and Mrs. Luchau were presented with a purse by the following guests: A. W. Schmidt, Herman Meierhoff, Raymond Meierhoff, Ed Meierhoff, George Bohner, Walter Liefers, Ben Lemke, August Matthes, August Heinemann, Walter Timme, Fred Kamrath, August Stohmann, William E. Paulus, Walter Otto, Kianer, Arthur Harms, Walter Timken, Jake Timken, Herbert Timme of Anaheim; O. Burd and their families and the Rev. E. H. Kreidt.

MEMBERS OF 'Y' PREPARING MEALS

ORANGE, Feb. 2.—Boy Scouts of this city are enjoying preparing "feeds" for themselves since the establishment of a kitchen and dining room equipment at the local "Y" building. Dishes were loaned to the boys by a fraternal organization here which no longer holds meetings.

DIRECTORS FOR TWO DISTRICTS NAMED FEB. 4

ORANGE, Feb. 2.—Directors to serve the John T. Carpenter and Serrano Irrigation district located at Villa Park and El Modena, will be selected Wednesday when polls will be opened from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. All districts are to vote for the assessor and collector-director and each precinct will vote for its own director.

The water districts were formed to vote bonds to finance the construction of a storage dam in the Santiago canyon, jointly with the Irvine company at a cost of $750,000. Ten polling places have been established in the two districts. At El Modena, J. R. Fletcher is running for election as assessor and Donald S. Smiley is the candidate for the office of assessor-treasurer. Both are incumbents.

J. L. Clayton, assessor, and F. H. Collins, collector-treasurer, are the candidates seeking re-election in the Villa Park district. The three directors who are up for re-election at El Modena are R. C. Adams in Precinct 1; W. H. Filpenn in Precinct 2, and George H. Randall in Precinct 3. L. W. Evans and D. L. Marshall, the other two directors, are hold-overs, their terms not expiring until 1933.

Willard Smith representing Precinct 5; Louis De Long in Precinct 2, and Charles W. Morrow in Precinct 3 are the directors running for re-election in the Serrano district at Villa Park. The holdovers are H. J. Lockett and W. L. Adams.

School Trustees Receive Bids On Property Tonight

ORANGE, Feb. 2.—A meeting is to be held this evening at the Orange union high school by members of the board of trustees for the purpose of receiving bids for the sale of one lot owned by the district and which is located next to the corner north of the high school on Orange street.

The lot formerly was used as a part of the school athletic field but with the purchase of additional property recently, the lot is no longer needed by the school.

With the place of land will be offered a house on Grand street acquired by the board with the purchase of the additional ground. The house will be offered with the lot and a minimum of $1000 has been set for the bid.

The meeting is to be held in the high school auditorium at 7 p. m.

GUEST HONORED

ORANGE, Feb. 2.—Mrs. Laura Bowen, 134 Almond street, was hostess Saturday at a 1 o'clock luncheon, which she gave in honor of her house guest, Mrs. Flora Borg, of Long Beach. Crystal baskets of orchid and pink sweet peas centered the prettily appointed table.

Those present with the hostess and the honor guest were Mrs. L. Newby, Mrs. V. A. Wood, Mrs. C. W. Coffey, Mrs. E. D. Cragin, Mrs. J. L. Knesel and Mrs. Carrie Doalg.

running for re-election in the Serrano district at Villa Park. The holdovers are H. J. Lockett and W. L. Adams.

KEEP ROOM IN LIFE FOR GOD. PASTOR URGES

ORANGE, Feb. 2.—"Well Received" was the subject of the sermon given by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck Sunday morning at the Christian church. The anthem by the choir was "It Is Good to Sing Praises" by Lorenz. Mrs. Leon Des Larzes sang by request "The Old Rugged Cross."

All Are Sowers
The Rev. Mr. Minck said in part: "We speak of a speaker's message being well received, the new minister was well received. In this parable of the Lord's seed that fell on good ground was well received. We are all sowers, but not all sowers of the seed of the gospel. We know the preparation of the soil and the kind of seed and the care determine largely the harvest."

"The followers of Jesus were of all kinds, the twelve, the seventy, the one hundred and twenty and on up to the followers of today. They sowed in faith, believing that Christ will bring the harvest. It is a work of joy with the seed, the word of God. The soil is different but the seed is the same. Has the word of God fallen on good soil in our hearts? Do our daily actions express our love of God? Are we temporary Christians, receiving the word gladly but with hearts preoccupied, with no growth? Keep room for God in your life, place first things first. Prepare the soil for the gospel of Christ."

Chorus Appears
The song service for the evening meeting was given by the boys' and girls' chorus under the direction of Mrs. Walter Kogler with Mrs. Neleta Wolfe at the piano, opening with a duet by Mary Esther Wood and Alice Des Larzes. "To Serve My Mother's God," by Wilson, was given by the chorus. Miss Irene White sang "Holding Thy Hand, Dear Lord." "The Voila Boatman," arranged by Wilson, was given by the chorus. "In the Garden" was sung by Watson Ruddy.

"Taking Away Sin"
The pastor gave a sermon on "Taking Away Sin." He said in part: "John the Baptist came to announce to the disciples the coming of Jesus to take away the sin of the world. Simon, changed by every wind that blew, was a changed man when Jesus took away the sin of his heart. When we are filled with Christ, we are a new creature. The power of Christ is able to lift you up unto Himself. Believing in Christ, we turn away from those things in our lives that are not of Christ. We are obedient to Christ and the power of Christ comes to us. Jesus made the sacrifice for us. Can we say, I know Christ is able to save men today? Christ is saving men today. Men are taking hold of Christ."

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

LEADER TELLS PROBLEMS OF CHURCH TODAY

Problems that are receiving the attention and consideration of leaders in the Presbyterian church in the United States, according to Dr. Hugh Kerr, moderator of that denomination, who was in Santa Ana Saturday, include those of divorce, church union and prohibition.

The national executive of the Presbyterian church, who is on a tour of the west and south, stopped over in Santa Ana for a luncheon meeting with the members of that denomination in Orange county. Prior to the luncheon he spoke briefly of these subjects to a Register representative.

An hopeful view toward eventual satisfactory solution of the prohibition question was taken by the church leader, who said he felt it was a great economic and moral measure that would require considerable time for effective enforcement.

"The prohibition movement is gaining ground," he declared. "The propaganda of the wets, which was highly financed, has largely spent itself. The people are settling down to a more sane view of the matter. It took Kansas 20 years to really enact prohibition and less time than this should not be expected from the nation at large.

"Prohibition is a great moral and economic measure and is the law of the land. It is not a New Testament doctrine. The church should stress the reason back of the adoption of the measure in a program of education, rather than stressing enforcement.

"The Wickersham report suggested a plan that would make of prohibition a perpetual political football, with the question being constantly agitated in congress.

"Lawlessness is a problem that was acute before prohibition was adopted. The lawlessness of this nation was the subject of comment by Chief Justice Taft nine years before prohibition became the law of the land. It is a problem that requires patience, good will and unselfishness for satisfactory solution."

When asked how the subject was viewed by the youth of the land, Dr. Kerr, who for 18 years has taught university classes and is in close contact with the thought and actions of American students, thought for a moment, then answered the query by stating that there were two inter-collegiate student organizations for the enforcement of prohibition and none against it.

"Unselfish persons and organizations who are fully informed on the subject—such as the churches, the Salvation Army and the social service organizations similar to the one run by Jane Addams in Chicago, are solidly united in working for prohibition," he declared. "They know what it is accomplishing for the people."

The divorce problem is being considered by a special commission of the Presbyterian church and a report on this matter is to be made next May at the general assembly of the church which is to be held in Pittsburgh, where Dr. Kerr is pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian church. The commission has been working for the past two years. Dr. Clarence A. Spaulding, of Santa Barbara, who

'SIN AND ITS RESULTS' IS
TOPIC DISCUSSED IN SERMON
AT UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH

"Sin and Its Results" was the subject of the sermon presented to the congregation of the First United Brethren church yesterday by the Rev. R. W. Harlow, pastor. "Sin is the violation of laws of morality and religion," he declared. "It is the wilful transgression of God's law. There are two kinds of sin in the world—sins of omission and sins of commission.

"Sin allures us, then deceives us, and then it makes slaves of us. At last it 'biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder' as it drags us down to hell where we will weep and wait forever.

"Sin defiles us in both soul and body. Some folks dress sin up in the latest styles and try to make it look respectable, but it is like dressing a pig up and putting it in the parlor. It is still a pig and as soon as you let it out it will tumble into the first mud hole it finds. So it is with sin. It defiles everything it touches.

"Sin haunts us, it makes us sad. Sin blighted the first home, and many thousands of homes since then. Sin takes away all good. It drives us from the presence of God. It hardens our hearts. It makes us fear death. It brings punishment. But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death." Thank God there is a remedy for sin. Jesus Christ bridged the chasm. He made a way for us. Repent therefore and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord. Do it now. Tomorrow may be too late."

is moderator of the California synod of the church, and whose father lives in Costa Mesa, is a member of this commission.

Church union is a matter that is receiving considerable thought on the part of church leaders, he said. "There are five Presbyterian groups in the United States," he pointed out, "the Presbyterian church, north, the Presbyterian church, south, the United Presbyterian church, the Reformed church in America, which is the Dutch branch, and the Reformed church in the U. S. A., which is the German branch. A conference is working out a union plan on which we may be called to act next year. The Methodists have made an overture for union with our denomination in which we are very much interested, but we believe family differences should first be settled and we should have family unification before taking other action in this regard."

Dr. Kerr, who was elected moderator of the church at the general assembly in Cincinnati last May, has been traveling extensively in the interests of the church. He came to California through Tennessee, Kansas and Nevada and reported that while there has been great sacrifice in the drought areas there is a wonderful spirit of hopefulness and confidence in the future.

The national church executive addressed the Los Angeles Presbytery at 10 a. m., today. He spoke yesterday morning in the Emmanuel Presbyterian church in Los Angeles and at the First Presbyterian church in Pasadena last night. He will leave Los Angeles tomorrow for the return trip during which he will visit various points in Texas, Louisiana, Florida and Cuba.

His appearance in Santa Ana was the second instance in history when the moderator of the church has addressed the people of the church while he held that high office.

CLASS TEACHER
DESCRIBES DAY
IN JESUS' LIFE

"A Day in the Life of Christ" was described to the Men's Community Bible class at the service in the Fox West Coast theater yesterday morning by the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church and class teacher. He selected the activities of the Master on a Sabbath for his lesson, prefacing it with the statement that Jesus thought differently from the old established ways and urged people to change.

"Traditions had covered the law so it could no longer be understood," the teacher asserted, "and Jesus tore away those obscuring curtains. The people of that day believed the Sabbath should be observed by sitting quietly at home doing nothing. Some today believe the same of Sunday, but I do not believe it is wrong to get out and enjoy the beauties of nature which God has provided for us.

"On this day of which I am telling you, Jesus went to church. This is an example He expects us to follow. The church is the institution which underlies home, government, business and every fine principle of life. Then Jesus went home to rest and put in practice the things He had learned at church. Men need to go to church every Sunday and take into their business and homes the things they learn. Rest is essential in a good life. Jesus did this when He was weary and oppressed with worries and problems.

"Then on this day Jesus healed a sick woman, the mother of Simon Peter in whose home He was staying. Later He healed many others who came to the house, including a leper. People need help and we can help them better when we are filled with the spirit of Jesus.

"Jesus can cleanse us of sin as he cleansed the leper of his vile and filthy disease. Believe in Him, put your trust in Him. He can make you clean and true and mighty."

In addition to selections by the class orchestra during the service yesterday, special music was presented by Laverne Harrell Milbrat, contralto, whose two selections, "Fear Ye Not, O Israel" and "Be Still and Know" were greatly appreciated by members of the class.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee." This inspired statement of Jeremiah constituted the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Love," Sunday, in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Responsive Reading included the following assurances of the Psalmist: "The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands hath He recompensed me."

As for God, His way is perfect: the word of the Lord is tried: He is a buckler to all those that trust in Him."

Among the Scripture selections were the words of the beloved disciple: "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God: and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God: for God is love."

BIBLE STUDIES
OPENED SUNDAY
BY EVANGELIST

Dr. R. T. Campbell, president of Sterling college, Sterling, Kas., opened his series of Bible studies at the United Presbyterian church last night. He is speaking on the various articles of the Apostles' Creed, and at the service last night discussed the first and second articles, "I believe in God, the Father Almighty, and in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord."

A brief history of the Creed was outlined, showing that it originated in a brief confession of faith the applicants for baptism were required to repeat and was not written by the Apostles, as some have thought. Dr. Campbell gave several illustrations, setting forth the need of a better acquaintance of the doctrine set forth in the Creed; among other things, he told how 11 per cent of the people of America did not believe in God.

The speaker then proceeded to show that mere belief in God was not enough, that nine-tenths of the heathen world would say "I believe in God" and that the Christian religion differs from heathen religion in the following particulars:

First—in our conception of God: we look Christ to give the world proper conception of God as our Father and we will never get the Brotherhood of man, until we first establish the Fatherhood of God. Second—in the nature of our faith. Christian religion calls, not only for the assent of the mind, but also the sincere trust of the heart. Third—the Christian religion is a blood religion. All other religions are built around a principle and principle cannot save. Fourth—the Christian religion is a blood religion—it teaches atonement through the blood.

He criticized the statement made by some that if we would keep our souls worth being saved, it will be saved.

Dr. Campbell will preach tonight on "The Fall;" Tuesday night on "The Virgin Birth;" Wednesday night on "Hades;" and close Thursday night with "The Holy Spirit."

OLINDA

OLINDA, Feb. 2.—Mrs. Earl Solos is home after a visit in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Miller, Mary Legari, Mrs. L. Parsons, Chester Flynn and Tommy Smith spent Thursday evening in Pomona.

Lester Hodkins and Bill Shores attended the Brea Odd Fellows meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Henderson visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weaver in Brea Thursday evening.

Ether Riter and Glenn Raycock, of Anaheim, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wilbur Thursday evening.

Billy Summons, of Costa Mesa, spent Thursday night and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wilbur.

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "The starting point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor mind,—that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle."

SANTA ANA PASTOR DELIVERS
SERMON ANALYZING REASONS
WHY POVERTY EXISTS TODAY

Reasons for poverty were discussed at the evening service of the First Congregational church yesterday by the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, who pointed out that failure to spend money wisely, lack of training for their work, depredations of unscrupulous salesmen and reactions of social and economic conditions are the most outstanding causes. Excerpts from his sermon, "Why People Are Poor," follow:

"The poor ye have always with you," said Jesus. And He was right. Poverty is an ever present problem. Just now we seem to have more poor with us than usual. It leads one to question, why? Is it not possible to solve this problem of poverty and have a civilization that does not necessarily have a large per cent of poor people?

"One of the first things that is necessary in solving a social problem is to find out the contributing causes. What are the elements that enter into the making of the problem? I wonder if we can discover the causes for the poverty of the world. It would not be possible in the few moments at our disposal tonight to mention all of the reasons why people are poor. I couldn't if I had time, for, without doubt, I do not know them all. But there are some reasons that are so evident that any one can recognize them. It is some of the obvious reasons that I want to call to your attention.

"A writer in an Eastern newspaper mentions one reason. He calls attention to the many appeals he has had to aid people who have had their homes burn down and are in dire need. He says that they are in need because they had no insurance. Generally they had felt too poor to carry insurance. Yet he points out that they spend enough on tobacco each year to carry $500 insurance on their property. Some people are poor because they spend money upon useless things instead of saving it. Many a man who begs for enough to buy a meal will have enough to keep himself supplied with cigarettes.

"Another reason why people are poor is that they have never been trained to do anything well. They have been content to be casual laborers. And they do not even seem able to do the simplest kind of work well. When hard times come these people are the first to lose their jobs.

"Some people are poor because they are victims of unscrupulous men. So many of this kind are here in California. California is cursed with so-called salesmen—real estate, oil stock, mining stock, all sorts of get-rich-quick schemes. These human hyenas prey upon the aged, sick, inexperienced. The result is that many of these dear people come to old age with their hard earned savings gone for utterly worthless land or paper. Do not misunderstand me. I am not making a wholesale condemnation of real estate and security salesmen. Many of them, the majority probably, are honest. But there are enough of the swindlers to add many people to the ranks of the poor.

"Some people are poor because of social and economic conditions over which they have no control. This present time is a good exam-

CHURCH CRITICS
ARE ANSWERED
BY S. A. PASTOR

Pointing to the great accomplishments of the church through the history of this nation, the Rev. W. C. Reynolds, pastor of the First Free Methodist church spoke at the morning service yesterday in answer to criticisms of the church or those who accused it of having smug doctrines and empty hands—theories and no accomplishments. He said in part: "The Christian religion is a religion of sacrificial service. This is not according to the natural disposition of human nature. There is much crowding and shoving to gain the seats of honor; there is plenty of bickering as to who shall be greatest, but usually a painful and awkward silence when there are feet to be washed. It was the Master, on one occasion, who girded himself with a towel and found a basin of water and began to wash the disciples' feet. 'This is the real spirit of Christianity. But there are many who are ready to clamor their denials. I was walking down the street the other day while my mind was filled with thoughts about the inspiring religion of Jesus Christ. As I started across a street, a man fell into step beside me and said: 'I beg your pardon, mister, but would you be so kind as to let me have a dime to get a cup of coffee?' I was compelled to tell him I didn't have a cent of change with me.

"As I walked on some of the current criticisms against the church began to echo in my mind. 'Aha, that's just like the church! Head full of beautiful theories and pretty sentiments, but hands empty when hungry and starving men need help! Smug doctrines, empty hands! I reflected very seriously for a while and then

Salvation Army
Leader To Talk
In Los Angeles

Salvationists of this city as well as of all Southern California are to have a chance of hearing Evan- geline Booth, commander-in-chief of the forces in the United States, in Shrine auditorium on February 22, according to announcement made locally today. The announcement came from Brig. James Dee, commanding officer of the Orange Belt Division.

"Not only will Salvationists be welcome," the local officer pointed out, "but friends of the Salvation Army as well. Reserved seats will be provided to all who wish. It is only necessary to call the office of the Salvation Army here, or write in to headquarters, Pasadena. Those who wish to go and take chances on procuring a seat will be admitted without ticket to the unreserved section."

Commander Booth will deliver her masterpiece, "The Shepherd," dressed in the garb of an eastern shepherd.

Want To Look Young?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They help bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are known by their olive-like color. 15c, 30c, 60c.—Adv.

For COLDS

We all catch colds and they can make us miserable; but yours needn't last long if you will do this: Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin just as soon as possible after a cold starts. Stay in the house if you can—keep warm. Repeat with another tablet or two of Bayer Aspirin every three or four hours, if those symptoms of cold persist. Take a good laxative when you retire, and keep bowels open. If throat is sore, dissolve three tablets in a quarter-glassful of water and gargle. This soothes inflammation and reduces infection. There is nothing like Bayer Aspirin for a cold, or sore throat. And it relieves aches and pains almost instantly. The genuine tablets, marked Bayer, are absolutely harmless to the heart.

Way to Get At a Cold
Is Through the Bowels

As soon as you catch cold, the pores close; perspiration is checked. Gases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like Cascarets. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You get Cascarets in its most pleasant form in candy Cascarets. Remember this when you catch cold: whenever breath is bad; tongue coated; or you're headachy, bilious, constipated.

Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so quickly, so harmlessly and pleasantly—and cost only a dime?—Adv.

Santa Ana Girl Tells Engagement News to Sorority Sisters

Miss Marie Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Mitchell, of East Fifth street, presided at a charmingly appointed affair in Berkeley Saturday when the announcement of her engagement to James Edwin Gosline was made to members of her sorority, Kappa Delta. Miss Mitchell is in her senior year at the University of California at Berkeley.

Mr. Gosline is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gosline of Santa Paula. Just last May he was graduated from the College of Mining of the same university with honors, and is pledged to Theta Tau, mining professional fraternity, as well as Delta Tau Delta. At present he is studying for his Doctor's degree, and has accepted a position in research in the College of Mechanical Engineering.

Miss Mitchell is well known in this city where she attended school for a number of years, and was graduated from Santa Ana high school. The date of the approaching marriage has not been announced as yet.

James Irvine Senior Is Quietly Wed in Oregon

Culminating a romance of several years' standing was a wedding which took place Saturday in Oregon when James Irvine, Sr., wealthy land owner of the Southland and Mrs. Catherine Lamson White of Piedmont, exchanged vows. News of the quiet wedding was revealed today in telegrams sent to Mr. Irvine's son, James Irvine Jr. and his niece, Miss Catherine Lillard, of Irvine.

In attendance at the ceremony were Mr. Irvine's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Myford Irvine and Mrs. White's son, Thomas White Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Sr. left immediately for a tour of the east, and plan to be gone for about two months. On their return they will establish their home in San Francisco.

Mrs. Irvine was formerly Miss Catherine Brown, daughter of Mr. Brown, one of the executives of the Panama-Pacific International exposition.

A special meeting of the Fountain Valley Land Owners' association was called for Wednesday in regard to the water situation. Visitors from several sections interested in water conservation attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lacabaine motored to Los Angeles Thursday to visit relatives.

John Pape is the first of the land owners who brought in the Pacific railroad strip to complete the leveling of this land in the Talbert section.

Local water wells are reported to have raised slightly this week, due evidently to the rains on the mountain recently.

Mrs. Walter Giesler, who recently underwent a major operation, has returned from the hospital and is convalescing.

Mrs. J. O. Harper, who has been quite ill, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Robert Giesler, Mrs. Tom Giesler and Miss Luella Giesler attended the Catholic card party at Huntington Beach.

Mrs. Mary V. Bushard and Joseph Kagerer, of Los Angeles, were entertained at dinner Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. George Bushard and in the afternoon called in the homes of her other two sons, William and L. J. Bushard.

SUNSET BEACH

SUNSET BEACH, Feb. 2.—Mesdames Josephine Allen and Bernice Clarkson of Coast highway were the guests of Golda Fuller, of Belmont Shore, at a delightful bridge party the latter part of the week. Other guests were Mesdames Jessie Duke, Charlotte Herick, Selena St. John, Laverne Strowbridge and J. Peters. Bridge favors were won by Mesdames Selena St. John and Jessie Duke.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter Dean, of Ocean avenue, have as their guest, Mr. Dean's mother, Mrs. Margaret Dean, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Mable Galle and daughters, Alice and Winifred, of Fourteenth street, entertained at bridge and pinole Friday evening. The following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Gradner, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cawood, Mesdames R. Foster, Margaret Dean, S. Groves, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dean and L. Crowder. At the conclusion of the pleasant evening Mrs. Galle served an appetizing lunch.

Mesdames L. Cawood and R. Foster, accompanied by L. Crowder, motored to Wilmington Thursday on business.

Mrs. Frances Earl, visited her sister, Mrs. E. S. Richards, at the Santa Ana Valley hospital. Mrs. Richards is the mother of an eight-pound baby boy.

Little Lad Observes Eighth Birthday With Party

Kenneth McCollum observed his eighth birthday in delightful fashion Saturday afternoon, for he was honor guest at a party given by his mother in their home at 610 Lime street. At the same time his little sister, Carol, asked a group of her friends to share in the event.

During the afternoon games and contests were enjoyed, and at a late hour refreshments were served. Carol and her little friends were seated at a small table, while Kenneth and his party were grouped around a larger one. Decorations were carried out in pink and white, and included in the appetizing menu was a large birthday cake topped with candles forming the figure 8. The Valentine time was evidenced in clever little heart-shaped nut baskets, and especially bright-hued were the horns and caps which each guest found as favors.

Those present, other than Carol and Kenneth McCollum were Mary Katherine Friend, Yvonne Husong, Loui Mallers, Mary DeVoe, Vernon Branson, Everette DeVoe, Nadine Colomich, Thomas Graham, Mary Frances Macchum, Alice Iverson, Edward Hagthorpe, Betty Louise Keen, Joan Miller and Georgia Grace Mallers.

BREA

BREA, Feb. 2.—E. H. Crowe and L. A. Crowe, proprietors of the Crowe Brothers Auto Electric service, 342 South Pomona avenue, have sold this business to Roy Angle of the Angle Service station, in connection with the battery service.

Some months ago Angle purchased the service station of E. J. Murray and this deal places him in possession of the entire business.

Alex Kuenzli, for the past 20 or more years an employee of the General Petroleum corporation on its lease just north of Brea, has been compelled to give up his work because of an illness which has now confined him to his home on South Flower street. His condition is considered serious.

Miss Ruth Goodwin, art director in the Brea-Olinda union high school, and her cousin, Miss Helen Culp, of the Orange union high school faculty, were among the dozen former Mills college women who on Saturday night honored Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills college, by a beautifully appointed dinner in Fullerton. The girls later attended the meeting of the Orange county branch of the American Association of University Women, sponsoring an international relations program in the Y.W.C.A. hall at Santa Ana, where Dr. Reinhardt was the principal speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. George Geame have returned from several days spent at the Wilbur Jones cabin in the mountains near Ramona.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Templeman, accompanied by their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Henhoff, who are visiting here from Quincy, Ill., enjoyed a week end motor trip to Bakersfield, leaving Saturday over the inland route and returning by the coast route.

Mrs. Floyd LaGraffe was brought to her home here today from the Fullerton General hospital, where she underwent a major operation two weeks ago. She is doing nicely.

Mrs. Alma Pressel, Anaheim, was a business visitor in Brea Saturday, looking after matters concerning her business property on North Pomona avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hogue were dinner guests of Los Angeles friends Saturday night and later attended a Hollywood theater.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest and his nephew, Clare Hurst, have returned from a week's motor trip and visit at Sacramento. Mrs. Hurst returned feeling much improved by the change.

Mrs. D. A. Davis and daughter, Mrs. Wanda Davis Phillips, of Beverly Hills, visited here Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Stella Keene. They were accompanied by Mrs. Phillips' little daughter, Miss Margaret. The family formerly lived in La Habra. Mrs. Phillips is associated with the Beverly Hills Citizens.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Elder are visiting here at the home of Mrs. Elder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, before moving to one of the oil fields in the northern part of the state where Mr. Elder will be employed by the Union Oil company. They hope to locate in Santa Maria.

Miss Betty Reed, of Olinda, has been staying in Brea with her sister, Mrs. Charles Swan, who has been nursing her through a siege of the measles.

Charming Dinner Party Compliments Bridge Club Members

Complimenting members of the Monday evening club, who so many times have entertained Mrs. A. N. Zerman as their guest, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Zerman were hosts at dinner Friday evening, entertaining in their home at 505 South Sycamore street. Decorations were carried out in modernistic fashion, and especially lovely was a black bowl of delicate yellow blossoms which centered the table. Black candle holders bearing tall orange tapers evidenced the chosen motif. A daughter of the hosts, Mrs. Florence Winter and Mrs. Sydney Heron assisted in serving.

Bridge was the game of the evening, and with its conclusion prizes were awarded Mrs. Clare T. Johnson and Parke Roper for scoring high and to Mrs. Vern Bishop and Mr. Johnson for scoring second high. Each received an attractive piece of black china ware.

Those sharing Mr. and Mrs. Zerman's hospitality were Messrs. and Mesdames Clare Johnson, G. B. Campbell, Vern Bishop, Parke Roper and Mrs. N. D. Borgmeyer and Colonel Charles L. Phillips.

SPRINGDALE

SPRINGDALE, Feb. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vervoren entertained an over-night guests in their home. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clabotts, of Hollywood, former Wisconsin friends of Mr. Vervoren. The following day the visitors were joined here by Miss Marie Ehlinger, of Hollywood, who was a dinner guest, returning to Hollywood with the Clabotts.

Mr. and Mrs. Zine Crane were pleasantly surprised by former Illinois friends of Mrs. Crane, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Winne, who called in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ruoff and family attended the auto show in Los Angeles.

Local bean growers are commencing to irrigate preparatory to spring planting.

Mr. and Mrs. George Crane motored to Glendale to see Mrs. Crane's uncle, Ed Reed, who is in declining health.

Mr. and Mrs. Zine Crane have visited among friends and relatives this week, the homes being those of Mrs. Crane's mother, Mrs. Talbert, in Long Beach, brother Sam Talbert at Talbert, Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo at Huntington Beach and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hearne in Santa Ana.

Mr. Gary motored to Eagle Rock to join Mrs. Gary, who has been spending a week with relatives and they were accompanied home by their son and wife and their two children, who remained for a visit.

Ed Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Farrar, of Huntington Beach, were callers in the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Robinson.

Friends of George Gerhart, local man, will be glad to learn that he is recovering following an attack of influenza. He is at Fontana.

FINEST CHOCOLATE CREAMS ARE DIPPED ONE AT A TIME

For a Similar Reason Hills Bros. Roast Their Coffee a Few Pounds at a Time

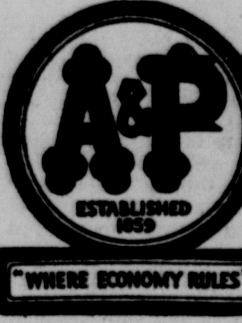

Candy makers agree that when creams are dipped one at a time in the chocolate, the coating is applied much more evenly than when dipped in big batches.

According to the results achieved by Hills Bros., this same principle holds true in roasting coffee. By roasting a few pounds at a time by a continuous process, instead of large batches, a uniform roast is certain.

This process originated, and patented by Hills Bros., is called "Controlled Roasting." "Controlled" is a most appropriate word because during the entire roasting process there is automatic regulation. This control accurately regulates the flow of coffee through the roasters—also the temperature. Every berry of the rare blend is roasted to a degree that insures perfection. No other coffee has the same delicious flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee.

Freshness is always guaranteed in Hills Bros. Coffee because it is packed in vacuum cans. By this method, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out, and kept out of the can. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arabi—the trade-mark—on the can. Sold everywhere by grocers.

CHURCH WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS FRATERNAL HOUSEHOLD

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Ann Looks Ahead to Next Yuletide

I have just finished clearing up the drawer dedicated to Christmas parcels, wrappings, and what-nots, so assume that there are still many such things to be sorted out in other homes.

Save lovely wrappings for next year—just a touch of the hot iron and they will be ready to go again. Ribbons can be salvaged in like manner. Christmas cards should be gone over, names listed in an address book, the loveliest cards saved and ideas jotted down for making your own Christmas cards next year. Save the linings you will find in the envelopes—just read the little paragraph below for the clever way one woman used these clever linings:

A birthday dinner was being planned for the 19-year-old son of a friend of mine, and given so soon after Christmas, the family exchequer did not run to expensive place cards, so the mother conceived the clever idea of making the cigarette and mint sets as place cards and surprise gifts.

Enough empty flat cigarette tins were around the house to use one for mints for each girl. The boxes were lined with waxed paper and the lids, inside and out, were covered patch-work fashion, with brilliant envelope linings. A binding of passepartout paper finished the edges neatly.

The boxes were wrapped in cellophane and tied with ribbon, into which were slipped the name card. Individual packages of cigarettes were wrapped and tagged for each boy. And did they like them! Enough to save and take home the clever little boxes, which is some compliment from this day and age!

Tomorrow, I am going to suggest things that might be picked up throughout the year for the Christmas.

Business Girls Change Meeting Day to Tuesday

Beginning tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock, members of the Wrycenu club of the Y. W. C. A. will hold their meetings on Tuesdays instead of Wednesdays as they have been doing. Girls of the club have reported that Wednesday evening sessions conflict with a number of other engagements, and it is hoped that the Tuesday gatherings will attract a larger attendance.

Following the usual dinner to-morrow evening, members will take part in their regular class meetings. Girls of the physical education class, with Miss Maude Moore as instructor, will be privileged to use the Y. M. C. A., and the pool will be open at this time.

The business girls are anticipating the Southern California conference which is to be held here February 7-8, when a group of delegates from other business girls' organizations will be present. Santa Ana members are requested to register as soon as possible in order that last minute confusion may be avoided.

County Dental Clinic Is Congratulated

Only recently formed, the Orange County Dental study class is already receiving congratulations on the clinic in which its members took part at the recent University of Southern California convention held in Los Angeles. That this bit of entertainment put on by the Orange county men was significant of the dental progress being made in this district, was the expressed belief of many attending the convention.

The study class will meet tonight. Among its members, most of whom attended the meeting in Los Angeles, are Dr. Irving Baldwin, of Garden Grove; Dr. C. M. Baker, of Orange; and Dr. Charles V. Doty, Dr. Robert C. Currie, Dr. M. H. Duncan, Dr. V. A. Rossiter, Dr. Harvey M. Spears, Dr. J. L. Wehrly and Dr. Cassius Paul of this city.

REDUCE HAZARDS

PARIS—Flying is safer in France. Commercial flying hazards are being reduced every day through improvement in aircraft and more rigid inspection of planes. One serious accident happened in every 325,613 miles in 1929, whereas the number in 1928 was one in every 197,096 miles. In 1930 the French Air Ministry examined, approved and purchased 116 different types of planes, which cost more than $5,500,000.

The calories in this cake and the whipped cream garnish are shockers. Some 4100 to be exact and practically all of them energy and fat-makers. The cake will serve twelve.

There was a time when prunes were antiseptic to child and adult alike, a breakfast fruit which mothers served with an apologetic air, but no more! They cost too much now and with mounting cost it is human nature to think better of the article so bettered.

I think I have something to offer in ways of preparing and serving PRUNES which will interest you enough to send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the copy I have awaiting you.

TAMALE PIE will be re-published tomorrow in answer to the many requests that have come in for this recipe.

NEW CLARA BOW IN "NO LIMIT" AT BROADWAY

"NO LIMIT" HERE

Clara Bow, the "It" girl, who is seen and heard in her latest talkie "No Limit," which opened at the Fox Broadway theater yesterday.

"SANTA FE TRAIL" AT WALKER STATE

There are no telephone poles along "The Santa Fe Trail," the action outdoor romance starring Richard Arlen. No twisted traffic lanes, no railroads to cross, but how this adventure romance of the West does click the "green" light for an open-throated and exhilarating spin down a vista of Nature's outdoor visions, of dauntless men and courageous conduct from questing hearts, of delightful love moments and homespun humor, of strong characterization and a climax aplomb the biggest lightning thrill you've had in many a day.

"The Santa Fe Trail" is the attraction at Walker's State tonight and Tuesday.

"LITTLE CAESAR" AT FOX WEST COAST

"Little Caesar," First National's bid for the best gang war story filmed, and one that has taken Los Angeles by storm, opens a four-day run at the Fox West Coast theater today.

It is the story of the rise and fall of a gangster who has ambitions to become a great leader and deserts his small town to go to Chicago where he rises to the top in gang land one day to find himself back in the gutter the next.

"Little Caesar" is better than most gang pictures. It gives the gangster's side and there are more minutes of suspense in the picture, more sure fire drama and action than is seen in most of these kinds of films. The film is the story of one bandit, his connections, his escape and his murders. It is the tale of Chicago from a gangwar standpoint.

Edward G. Robinson, formerly of the stage, who will be remembered in "The Racket" and "The Man With Red Hair," but he does his best work in "Little Caesar." Douglas Fairbanks Jr. plays the other important role in the film. It's rather hard to imagine Fairbanks in a gangster's role, but in that he plays the "weak sister," he does fairly well with the part. Glenda Farrell, a new comer to screenland, plays the girl in the show, a part that is not particularly important for the picture as a whole is a man's picture.

ZOE AKINS ADAPTING BROADWAY PLAY HIT

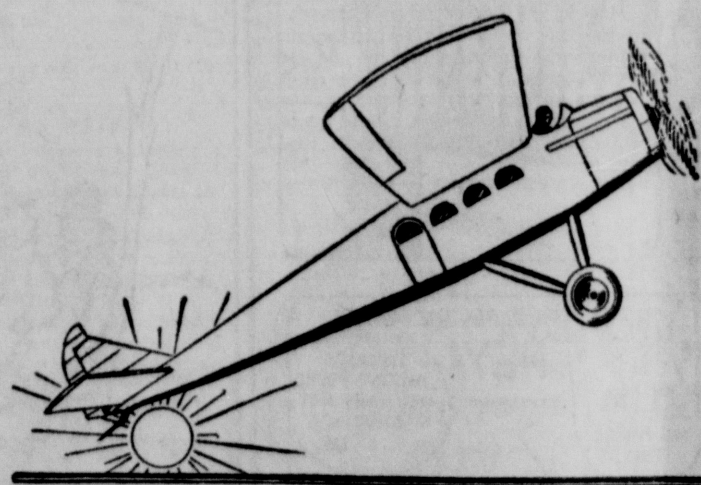

"Stepdaughters of War," the true story of woman's part in the world conflict, has been purchased by the Paramount Public corporation and will be filmed at the Hollywood studios this year. The announcement followed the completion of negotiations for this stage success by Chester Erskine. The screen play is to be prepared by Zoe Akins, author of "The Greeks Had a Name For It."

For Hard Coughs That Call For Super-Help

Creomulsion is made for coughs from colds that hang on. For coughs deep and difficult—coughs where you dare not risk a less effective help. But careful people use it for coughs which seem milder—use it to do the utmost and be safe. For nobody knows where a cough may lead. Creomulsion combines seven major helps in one. Some coughs yield best to one help, some to another. Doctors often differ on the best help, for coughs are not alike. So here we combine all the best—to be sure. Creosote stands first. Here it is blended, emulsified and made palatable. For soothing membranes and combating germs, it is considered the supreme help in this type of cough. But other helps are sometimes needed—pine tar, wild cherry, menthol, ipecac and others. Nobody can tell to which help your cough will soonest yield. So experts have combined in Creomulsion all best helps in one. No narcotic, nothing harmful to a child, but a seven-way help to deal with all conditions. The price is $1.25—a little higher than a lesser help. But your druggist guarantees it. Your money is returned if it fails to bring the quick, complete help you desire. Don't you think it worth that little extra to be sure that you are doing the utmost for a cough?

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY NAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Some women, too, were at the task of weaving carpets. "Guess I'll ask them how they do their work so well," said Scouty. "They won't mind. I'd like to learn that work. What fun! I'll bet they're pretty when they're done. I'm going to look around until some friendly man I find."

Not far away he came up to a man who promptly said he knew of little boys who also helped their parents with their task. "From morn till night, most every day, they work a while and then they play," said he. "If there are other things you want to know, just ask."

"What do you use the carpets for?" said Scouty. "Why, upon the floor," replied the kindly weaver. And we sleep upon them, too. You'll likely think they'd be a mess, but they are good enough, I guess. I've used them now, for years and years. They're softer when they're new."

Then Scouty said, "Hey, lad! Watch me. I've been as lucky as can be. A weaver's going to let me try my luck at this queer task." Then, while the man explained just how the weaver said, "Be careful now." He shortly showed the others. What more could the Tines ask?

They walked around then, till they found some queer homes standing on the ground. "My goodness, is that where they live?" asked Scouty with a grin. "Why, sure," replied the Travel Man. And to one home the Tines ran. They met a friendly native, who said, "Come ahead! Look in!" The homes were strange as they could be. Said Scouty, "What's that smoke I see?" "They don't have chimneys on their homes," the Travel Man replied. "And when they cook their rice and such, it isn't very nice. Not much! Before the smoke comes through the doors, it circulates inside."

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-FIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

SCHOLARSHIP AND FOOTBALL

Knut Rockne, coach of the Notre Dame football team, rose to remark that he is ready to match the scholarship of his football squad with any other in the nation. He has been stung somewhat by the criticisms that have been made upon the scholarship of his men.

We have no actual knowledge of how the men on Rockne's team stand in their scholarship, and therefore pass no judgment. But Coach Rockne, if he really wishes to allay all criticism of his team, would do well to give the facts in the case. To say that the scholarship of his team will match the scholarship of every other team in the land is too general. It may mean something, and again it may mean nothing at all. As we have had occasion to remark before, we cannot see how intensive training such as football requires to make men the experts they have become, together with the demands of games and social functions, can be conducive to high scholarship. We happen to know that college standards of scholarship have been raised to such an extent that distractions from the regular scholastic work show very quickly in the scholarship grades.

Appropos to this discussion, we note that the scholarship of non-fraternity men and women at Vanderbilt University, in Nashville, Tennessee, is higher than those of the fraternity groups. According to the "Vanderbilt Alumnae," the graduating ratio for 60 quality credits and 63 quantity hours is .9524. The ratio of non-fraternity men for the academic year 1929-30, according to the October number of that magazine, was 1.422, that of fraternity men was 1.262. For non-sorority women the ratio was 1.741, while for sorority women it was 1.673. Here again the distractions have a tendency to lower the scholarship record. In other words, outside activities, whether social or athletic, almost inevitably lower scholarship records.

Now that the Soviets are shipping electric light bulbs expect some writers to make light of the fact.

OPEN AIR BREAD LINES

In New York there is rising a considerable protest against great lines of men out of work standing for hours awaiting the dole of bread and coffee in bitter cold and sleet. One who has never seen a bread line can hardly imagine the suffering of these men on a cold night as they stand there for hours before their turn comes to receive their hand-out. It is bad enough to stand in a bread line; but if in addition to the humiliation of such a situation the suffering of cold and rain is thrust upon these unfortunate men, a protest such as is going on is timely and humane.

An observer of the men making up these bread lines describes them as able-bodied men, many of them scarcely arrived at middle life, many of them comparatively well clothed, scarcely any of them made up of that group which we call "bums" and "hoboes." The interesting phase is that as they creep slowly along toward the source of supply there is very little conversation going on between them. One observer who took his stand in the line just for observation stood there for an hour, determined to speak only as he was spoken to. During all the time he was in the line, no one spoke a word to him or asked him a question, and none so far as he could see up the line was carrying on any conversation.

We wonder what it all might mean. May it not be a mark of that humiliated respectability which prefers to keep its troubles secret, waiting perhaps for the return of the more fortunate days when buoyancy of spirit will be more normal to one's state of economic good?

THOUSANDS FOR PICKWICK PAPERS

At an auction in New York the other day a copy of the first issue of "Pickwick Papers," with a fragment of the original autograph manuscript, brought $13,000. It was the first "Pickwick" owned by the late George Barr McCutcheon. Because of the difficulty experienced in perfecting part two, he sold it. Since then a perfect part two has been substituted.

Even people who like books, find elements of considerable novelty in reading the news of the "Pickwick Papers" valuation. It is a rare and costly hobby, collecting "prime" copies and first editions. Gazing upon these early copies and handling them one is in close contact with the author who, after he nervously awaited the reception of just such a copy of his book has thrilled, interested, amused and influenced thousands. One feels close to the authors as one sees these first editions. Of course, the limited supply, together with posterity, have established the price, and the price is an indication of appreciation. Charles Dickens, whom modern biographers have not glorified, would be immensely pleased.

CALIFORNIA DOES WELL

California had an increase in the number of automobile registrations last year of 62,325. This was a three per cent registration gain over the previous year.

This speaks well for this great state in the poorest business year that we have seen for more than a decade. We doubt seriously if there is any state that will approach such a record as this.

RADIO OWNERS

The first completed analysis of the recent radio census which was taken as a part of the 1930 population census was made public the other day. Census enumerators, in their door-to-door canvass asked the question: "Do you have a radio set?"

The complete analysis is for the state of New Hampshire and reveals that the whole number of families in the state on April 1, 1930 was 119,660. The number of persons per family in 1930 was 3.9 as compared with 4.1 in 1920. The number of families reporting radio sets in 1930 were 53,111 or 44.4 per cent of the total.

The term "family" in estimating the radio users, it is explained, signifies a group of persons who live together as one household, usually sharing the same table. One person living alone is counted as a family and on the other hand, all the inmates of an institution, or all persons living in a boarding house are ordinarily counted as one family.

The person who draws conclusions about the number of family radio users in the country as a whole from these first figures from New Hampshire is likely to be far off unless he takes into consideration the fact that New Hampshire is a conservative Yankee state. Several of the New England states are being repopulated with intelligent, artists, people with money who appreciate the beauty of the rolling hills and soft verdure of the countryside. This is particularly true in Connecticut. But New Hampshire is a little different. In the New Hampshire hills many are still using oil lamps and have few telephones.

New Hampshire is not a typical state, yet the figures from New Hampshire are interesting because all actual facts are interesting. It is going to be interesting to be able to compare the number of radios in New Hampshire with the number in California. The proportion of families owning radio sets is going to be surprisingly greater in California. It will coincide with the contrast in the outlook of the people. In New Hampshire mere living requires so much attention that diversion is given minor consideration. Sensibly enough people feel out here that there isn't much use just working all of the time merely to live if one cannot enjoy living, and can get along by working less. The spirit is manifest in the participation in sports, in the sale of automobiles, in the support of musical enterprises and undoubtedly it will hold true in the number of radios.

The proportion in New Hampshire is no mean proportion. Taking all the differences of outlook and activity into consideration one would not be surprised when the actual figures are in to see the proportion of families owning radios in California to be very large indeed.

WOULD NOT BE FATAL

In spite of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and all of the other "financial experts," we are positively of the conviction that the United States will live even if it pays the face value of the bonus certificates or their present actual value. This country is on a stronger foundation than the Secretary of the Treasury imagines.

Big World's Fair to Be Held In Chicago

Chicago is planning a star's fair for 1933. It will be the greatest of all expositions. This is the Chicago way. It excels. Its great world's Columbian Exposition of 1893 never has been excelled. In some of its features. That great enterprise set the exhibitional pace for the world. There have been several great expositions since—notably, the St. Louis exposition of 1903; the San Francisco exposition, and others.

But Chicago, in 1933, undoubtedly will surpass all previous projects of the kind in the history of this country or any other country. What marvelous progress there has been in science and invention and human advancement since the Chicago world's fair of 1893! Since then, the automobile has evolved, changing the whole aspect of human life and ordinary transportation, and the motor vehicle and motor appliances which have revolutionized farm labor and other forms of labor.

After the phenomenal development of the automobile was well under way, the airplane came—and what marvels in the air the last twenty-five years have brought! No one so wise or so keenly prophetic as to augur what the future of air development will be.

Motion-pictures, in their wondrous development, have come since 1893. It will be intensely interesting to see in the Chicago world's fair exhibits in 1933 the evidences of progress in film development.

Radio, too, that marvel of the ages, has come into human life and experience since 1893. What a world of marvels in radio development!

No similar period in the history of the world has witnessed such amazing achievements in science and invention as have come since 1893.

'Go to Bed' When the Flu Attack Comes

The chief of the United States public health service, moved by the spread of influenza cases throughout the country, has again issued a list of precautions to practice in preventing and combating the disease.

"Go home and go to bed" is the first rule. "Call the doctor," is the second. Then follow a few things to be done by the patient in case no doctor is available. They are:

"Remain in bed; eat a simple diet; take plenty of fluids such as water, fruit juices, milk, bouillon and hot soups at frequent intervals."

Rest is emphasized as most important. The surgeon general's concluding advice is, "Remain in bed until all symptoms have disappeared, and then, under the physician's advice, return very gradually to usual physical activities, being sure to rest before becoming tired."

It might be added that when the first three rules are obeyed, the enforced rest period is shortened. Carrying out the last rule helps to ward off those influenza follow-ups, particularly pneumonia, which are more disastrous than the original disease.
